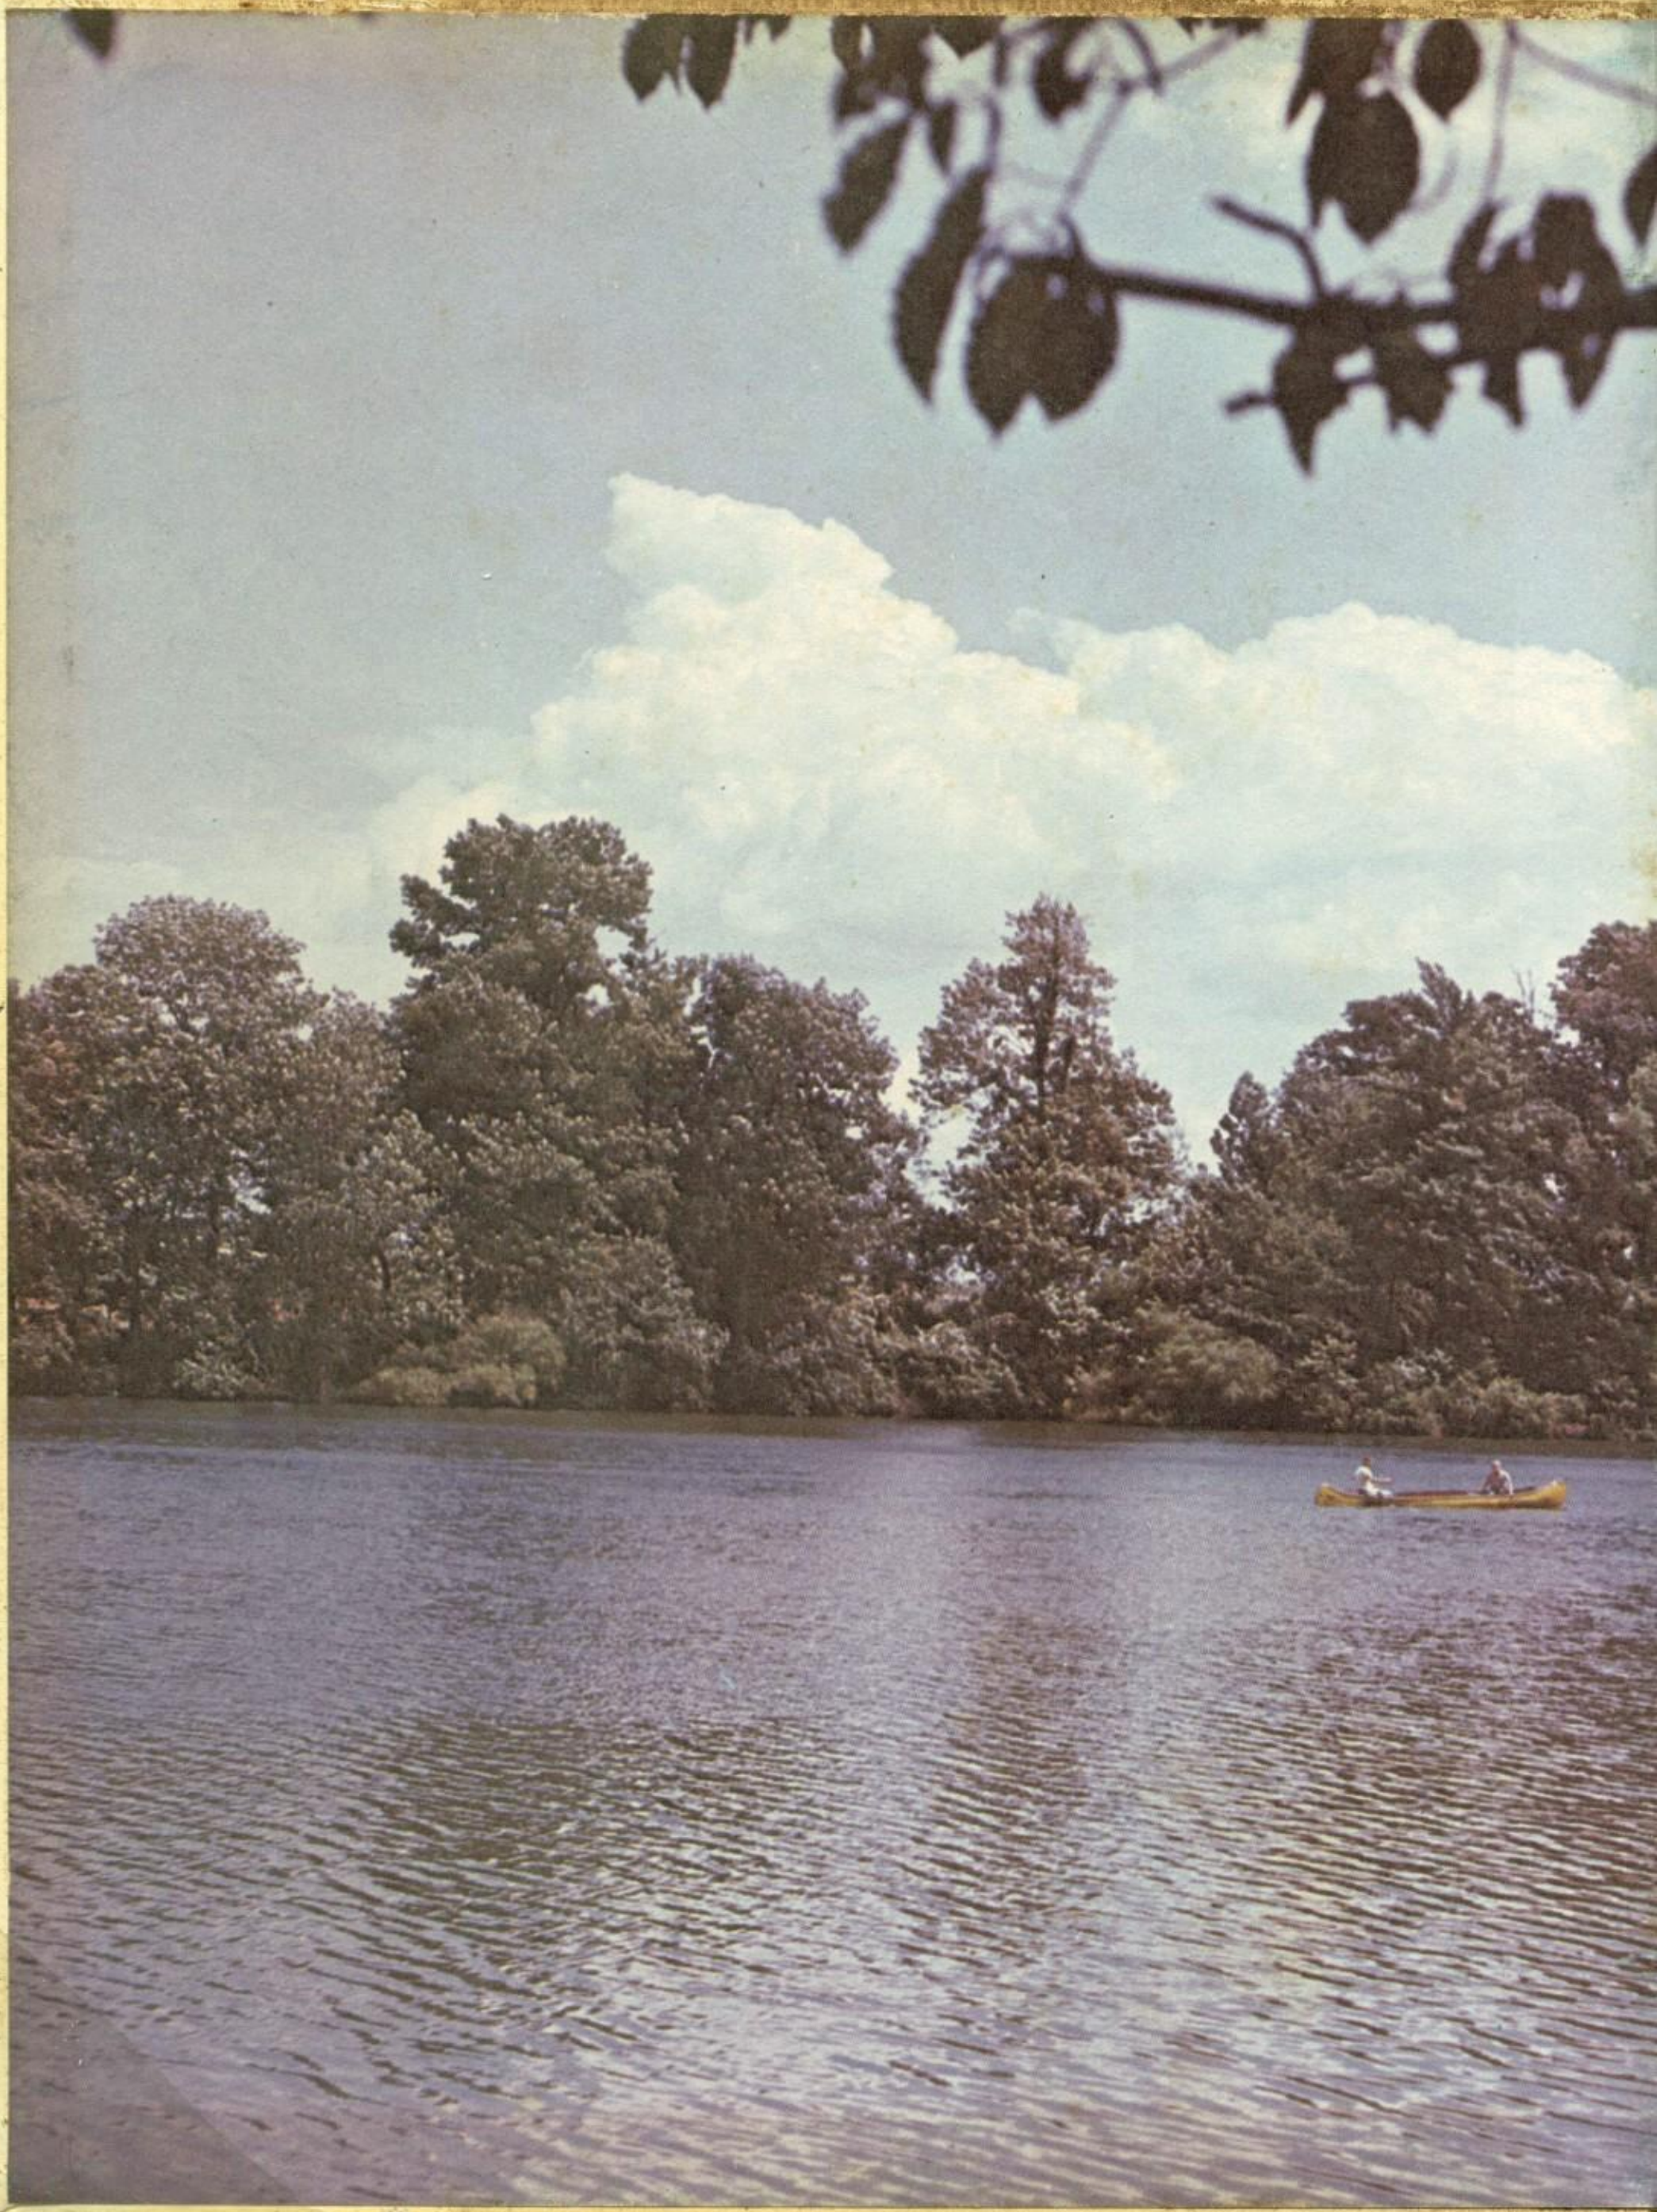
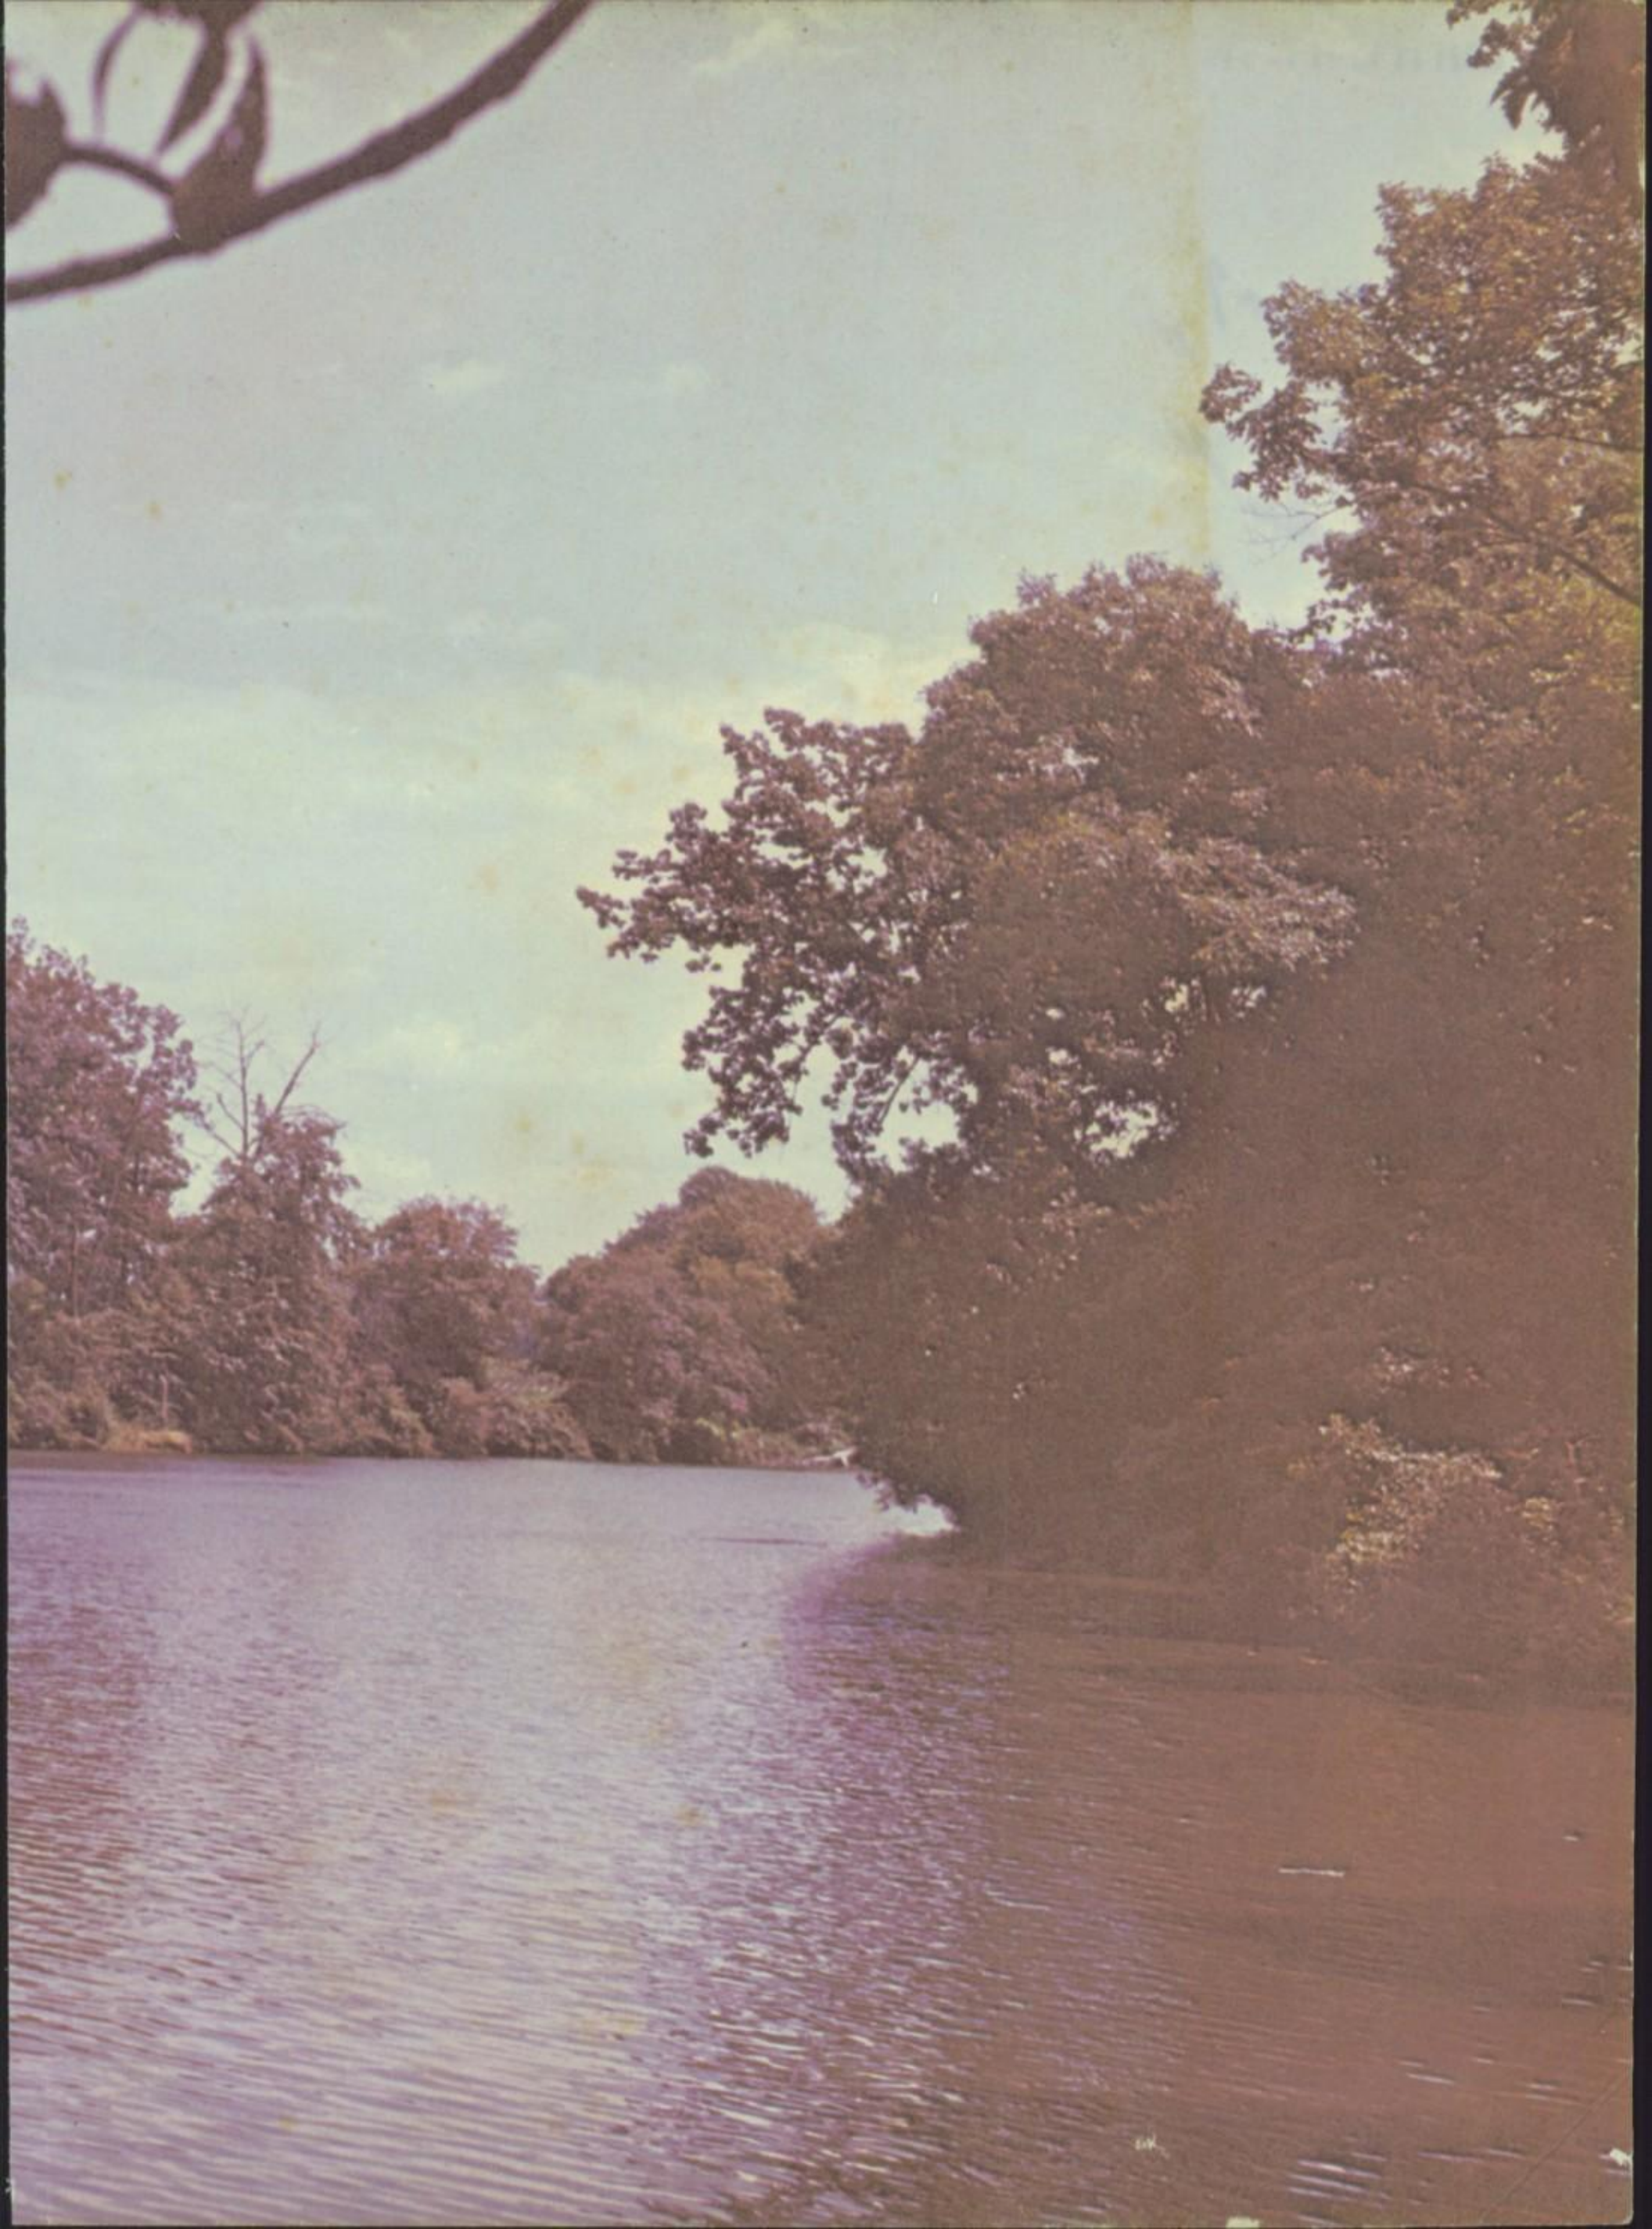
THE BEE HIVE 61





BARBARA MENZEI

Dear Barbara,
It has been great being friends with you these past years. Remember those good old days at Joan when we used to show the boys and hope you stay this way. You are a very sweet girl Barbara and I am sure. I hope to see you next year when we are seniors.

Your friend,
Pat "that" Lee
Keep cheerful Always

We really had a blast this year in gym playing volleyball didn't we? I Know I'll never forget that. Good luck & have fun in the future years - Betty Jane Framed by trees the reconstructed Capitol stands, its flag of the Great Union waving proudly against the Virginia sky. For more than a century the Capitol in Williamsburg was used by the General Assembly: even now, great men, such as Governor Almond and Charles Malik, former president of the United Nations General Assembly, come to the Capitol to speak. These great men stand in the chambers which once echoed with applause for Washington and rang with the words of Patrick Henry. The Capitol is the symbol of the heritage given to us, the young men and women of the United States. The James Blair High School ring includes in its design a picture of the Capitol to remind us that "the courage, the stamina, and the faith of our forefathers" is now ours.

FOREWORD

What is a foreword? "A word that goes beforehand; a preface," says Webster. Why is there a foreword in the annual of James Blair High School? The Bee Hive staff likes to have an opportunity to introduce the child of its year's endeavors to the school and the community. The staff is rather like an anxious but proud parent presenting its only child to all the friends and relatives, explaining the little one's behavior and physical make-up.

The Bee Hive of 1960-1961 has as its theme OUR TOWN . . . THE OLD AND THE NEW. The students of James Blair live in a unique situation though they accept it as normal. Williamsburg and the surrounding county are special; The Colonial Capitol receives visitors from all over the world - kings and queens, statesmen, and lawyers, farmers and housewives. Yet Williamsburg is a town, a living community, which blends the old and the new. The students are products of this blending and mixing.

The Bee Hive of 1960-1961 is proudly presented.

In Gratitude . . .

MRS. CARRA DILLARD

There is but one virtue—the eternal sacrifice of self.
—George Sand—

Since 1955 at James Blair there has been a teacher who has given unselfishly of her self. To an underclassman, she is a teacher to be respected and admired; to a senior, she is a teacher, advisor, counselor, and most of all a friend, who always has time to listen and counsel.

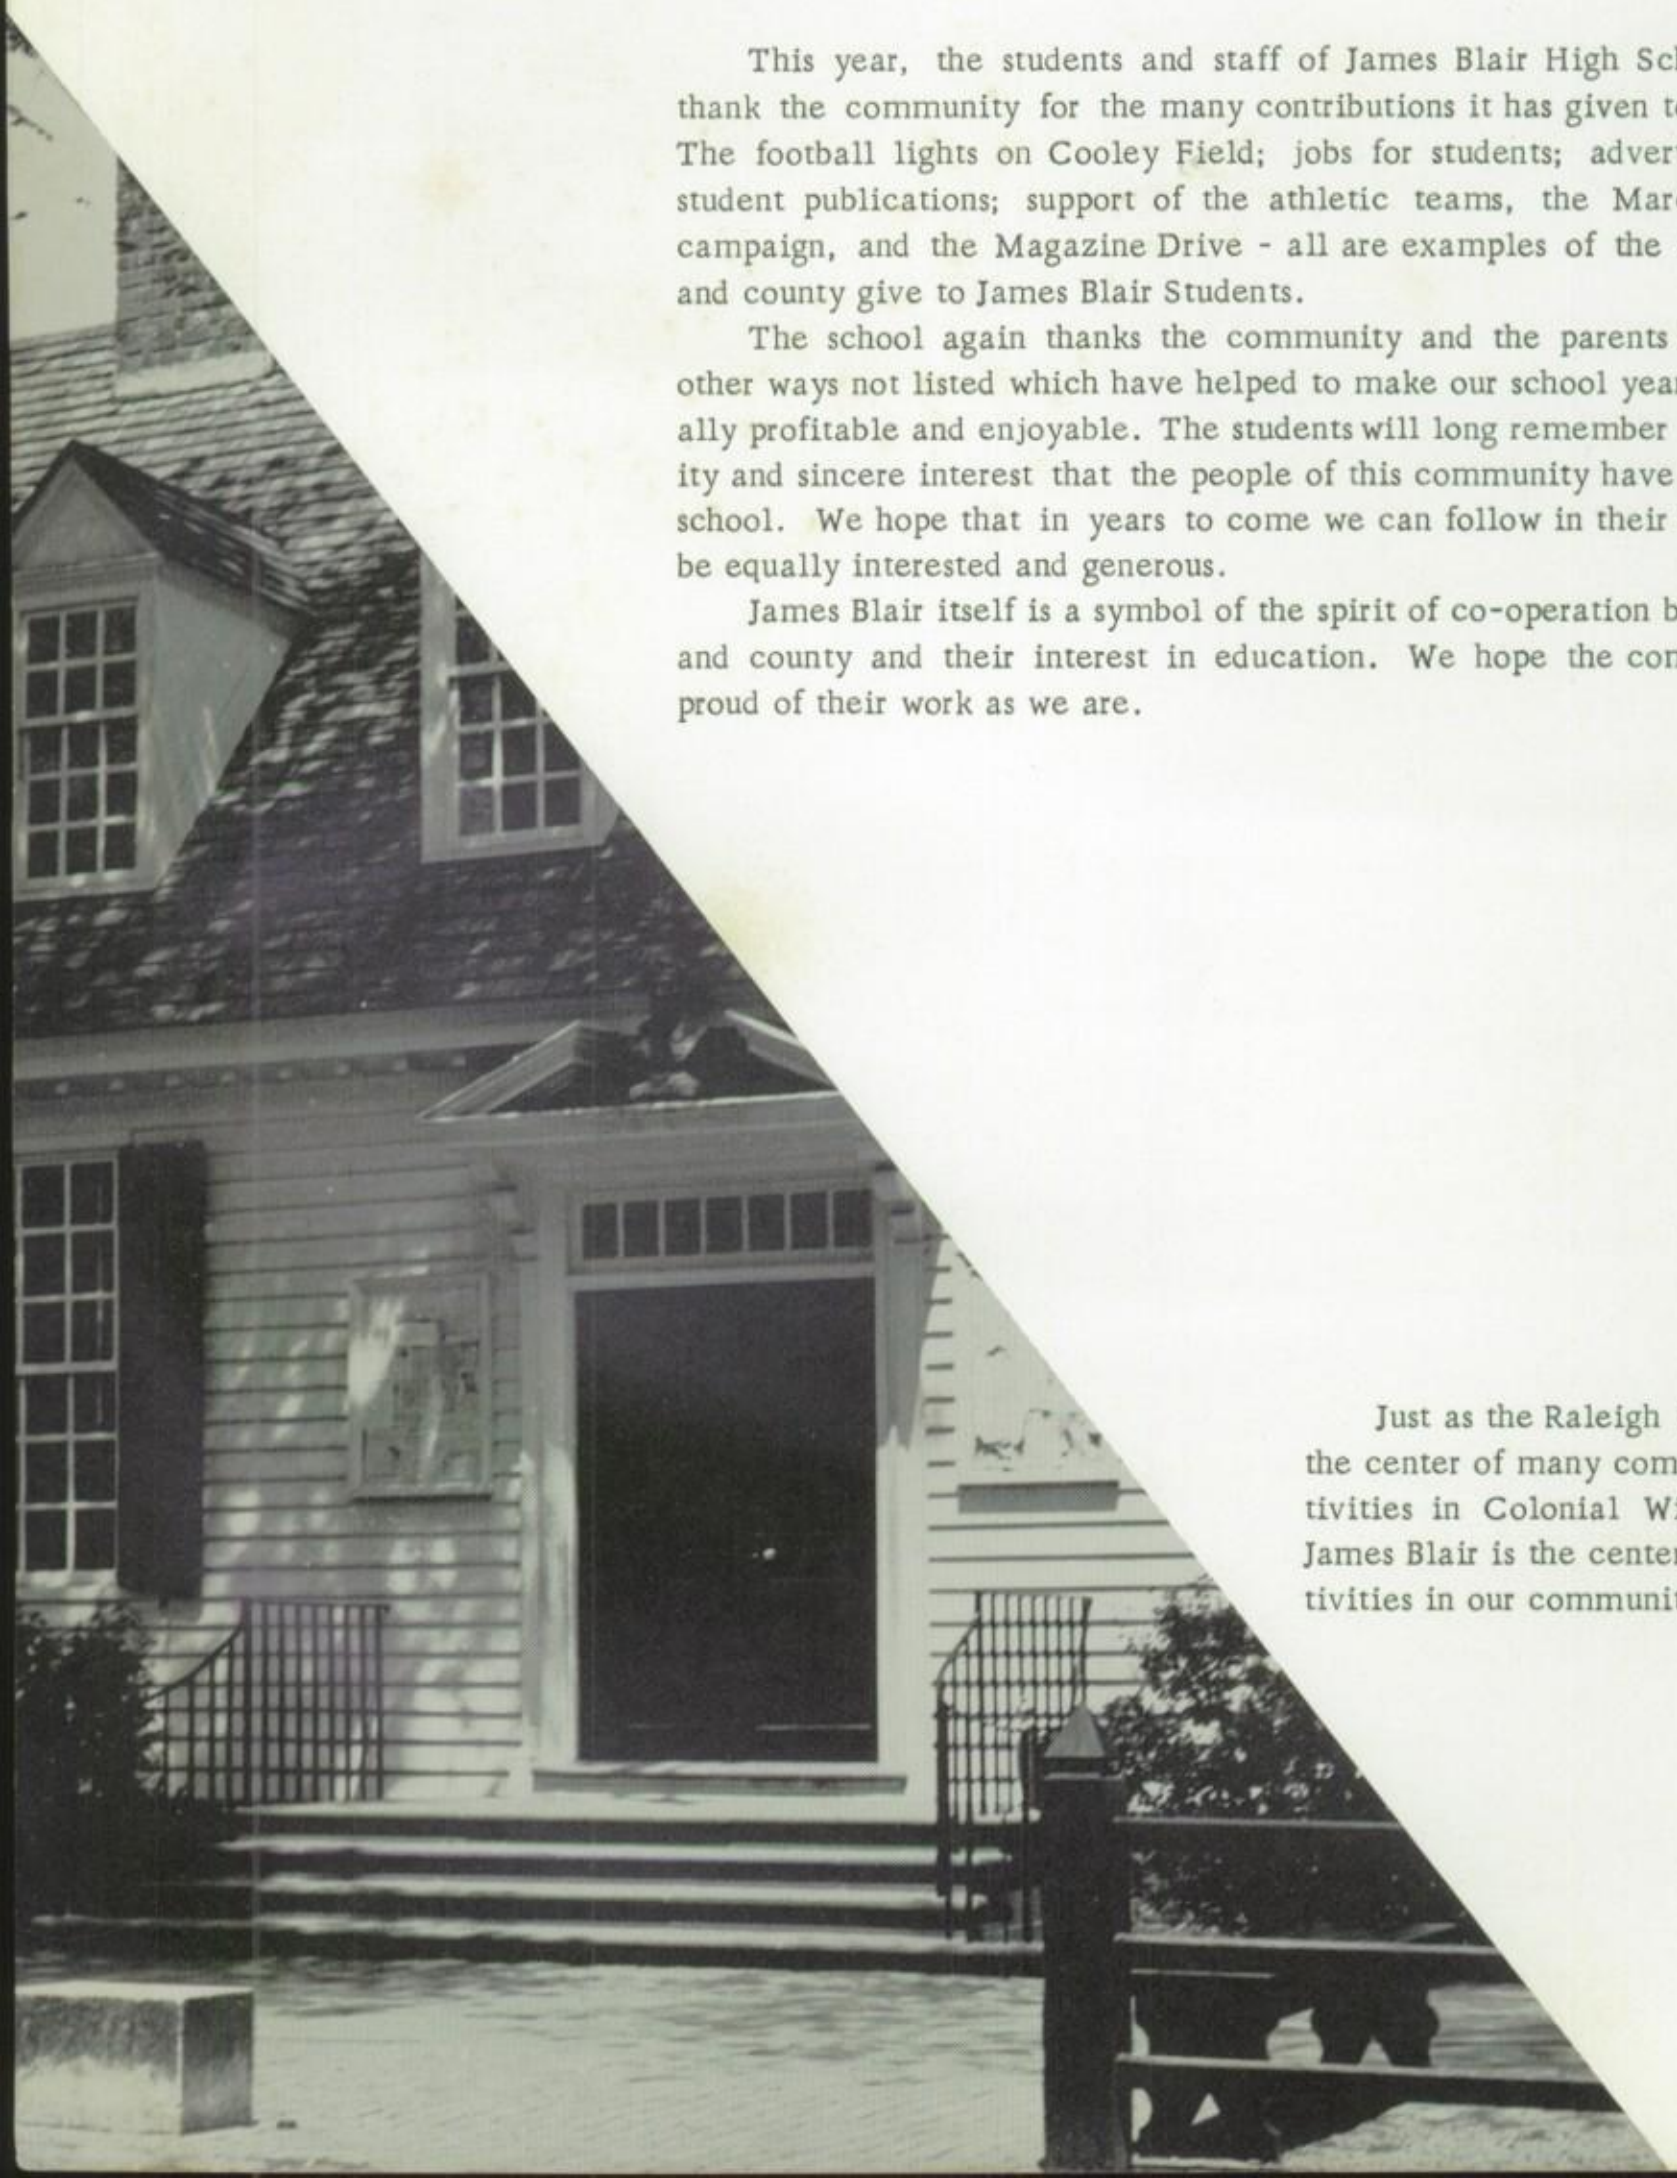
The quotation above describes better than the most elaborate words, why, we, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-one, dedicate the sixth volume of THE BEE HIVE to MRS. CARRA DILLARD.

With Thanks . . .

This year, the students and staff of James Blair High School want to thank the community for the many contributions it has given to the school. The football lights on Cooley Field; jobs for students; advertisements for student publications; support of the athletic teams, the March of Dimes campaign, and the Magazine Drive - all are examples of the aid the town and county give to James Blair Students.

The school again thanks the community and the parents for the many other ways not listed which have helped to make our school years educationally profitable and enjoyable. The students will long remember the generosity and sincere interest that the people of this community have shown in our school. We hope that in years to come we can follow in their footsteps and be equally interested and generous.

James Blair itself is a symbol of the spirit of co-operation between town and county and their interest in education. We hope the community is as proud of their work as we are.



Just as the Raleigh Tavern was the center of many community activities in Colonial Williamsburg, James Blair is the center of the activities in our community.

FACULTY

One of the most ancient buildings in Our Town is the Wren Building, a symbol of Knowledge since 1695. It is fitting that it represent the James Blair faculty, many of whom are alumni of the College of William and Mary.

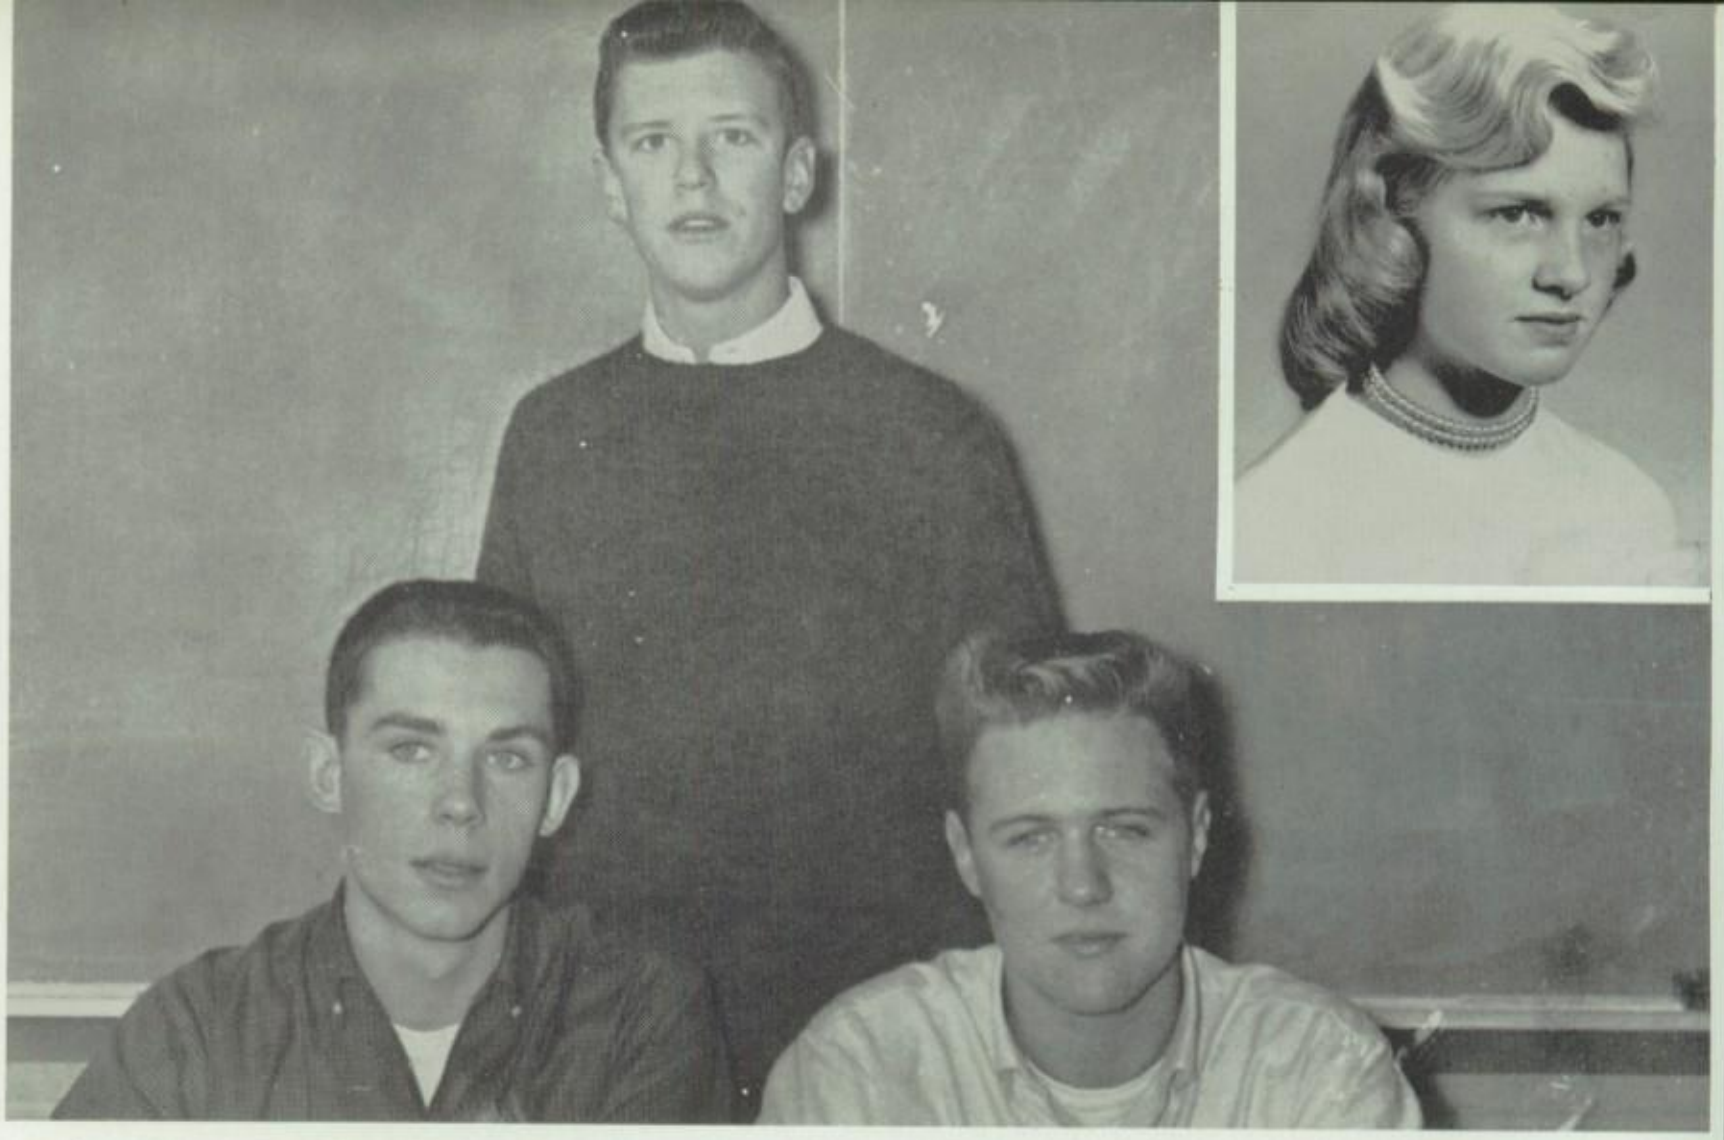
CLASSES

The Information Center, a beautiful example of modern architecture, was chosen to represent the Classes of James Blair. As the Information Center dispenses information and aid to many kinds of people, so does James Blair offer knowledge and help to the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, Freshman, and Junior High classes.

Senior Class



SEATED: Ernest Johnson, Treasurer; John Watkins, President.
STANDING: Tommy Lewis, Vice-President; Suetta Sulser, Secretary.

The school year of the class of '61 was spotlighted by many memorable events. For the first time in the history of James Blair, the senior class captured first place for their float in the October Homecoming parade. November brought the Senior Carnival; the biggest and best event of the year. After Christmas vacation, a Senior open house was held at the Youth Center. In the spring all attention focused on the plans for the senior class trip to New York. Finally June arrived, bringing with her the final and most important event of the Senior year - Graduation.

"Those Many Years Ago"

As the class of 1960 prepares to graduate, it looks back to that September in 1955 when James Blair High first opened. The members of the Senior Class were wide-eyed, shrill-voiced, boisterous seventh graders then. Today they are Seniors, recalling fondly those many years ago.

The Bee Hive proudly presents the first class to receive six years of high school at James Blair.

Junior Class

STANDING: Roger Willets, President; Bill Davis, Vice-President.
SEATED: Peggy Sulphin, Secretary; Betty Bright, Reporter; Dave Stewart, Treasurer.

The junior class has found this year to be their busiest and most hectic yet. Their first project of the year was a float for the October Homecoming parade. November found the juniors frantically planning their annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. In December the proud juniors received their class rings. Finally, as a tribute to the seniors, the junior class sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom in the spring.

SPONSORS: Mrs. Nancy Harvey, Mr. Wallace Harrison, Miss Spotswood Hunnicutt, Mlle. Lanchou.

OFFICERS - STANDING: John Strom, Treasurer; Diane Rau, Vice-President; Carolyn Moss, Secretary. SEATED: Tommy Norment, President.

As the year began, the freshman class found itself in a world of unbelievable activity. Its first year as a part of the high school brought projects big and little; work and fun as one class; pride of achievement and hope for the future years. In the October Homecoming Parade, the freshmen were represented by a float, their first big project. They sponsored a dance for the entire school at the Yough Center in March.

LIFE AT BLAIR

The Community Center is a new feature in OUR TOWN; it represents the pictorial "Life at Blair" section. The Center is a link between the community and the school.

"Life at Blair" is fast, furious and fun. James Blair students are constantly busy pursuing their varied studies and activities, with light hearts and 100% red-blooded American enthusiasm. An average day at James Blair, common moments, caught forever with a camera.

Our strolling cameraman first found journalism students.

Concentration Period.

"Have you ever seen a rat? Well . . ."

Those keen-eyed, pencil-behind-the-ears, sharp-witted reporters with noses for news, flood eagerly into the journalism class. There everyone concentrates on writing, trying frantically to hand in the two stories a week assigned to them. These young Walter Winchells learn the mechanics of the newspaper world and the skills needed for good writing from Mrs. Nancy Harvey.

While the journalism students push pencils, the art pupils swing paint brushes under Mrs. Carra Dillard's guidance. From the famed art room, come water colors, pastel drawings, clay figures and posters. Work is also done with paper, linoleum, and ceramic tiles. Throughout the year, the art class helpfully assists any school projects with their art work.

Executive meeting?

Let's not discuss Van Gogh's personal life!

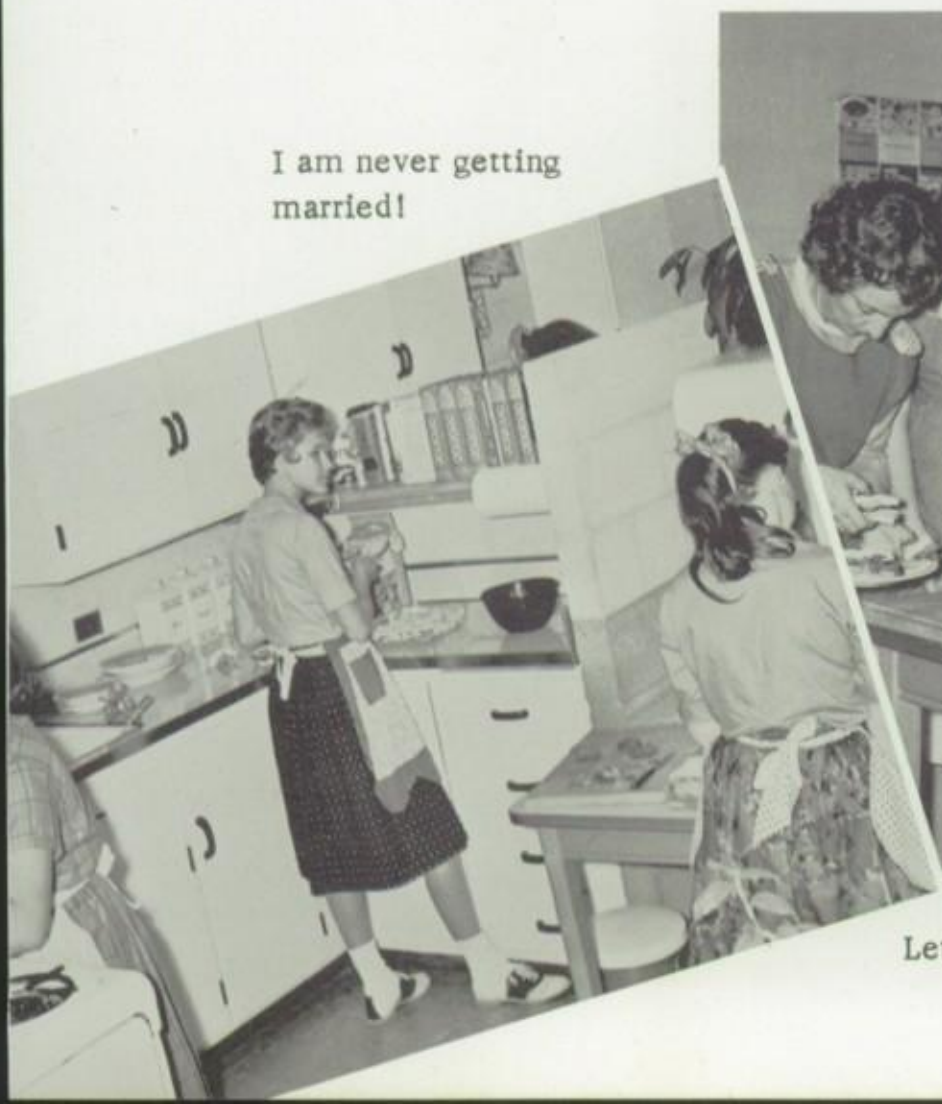
"If you really want to make Donald Duck, it goes like this . . ."

This is Mama's Christmas Present.

Works of art of a different nature are made by Mr. Walter Cox's industrial arts students. With their trouser cuffs filled with sawdust and woodshavings, the boys happily learn the mysteries of drafting, metalworking and woodworking.

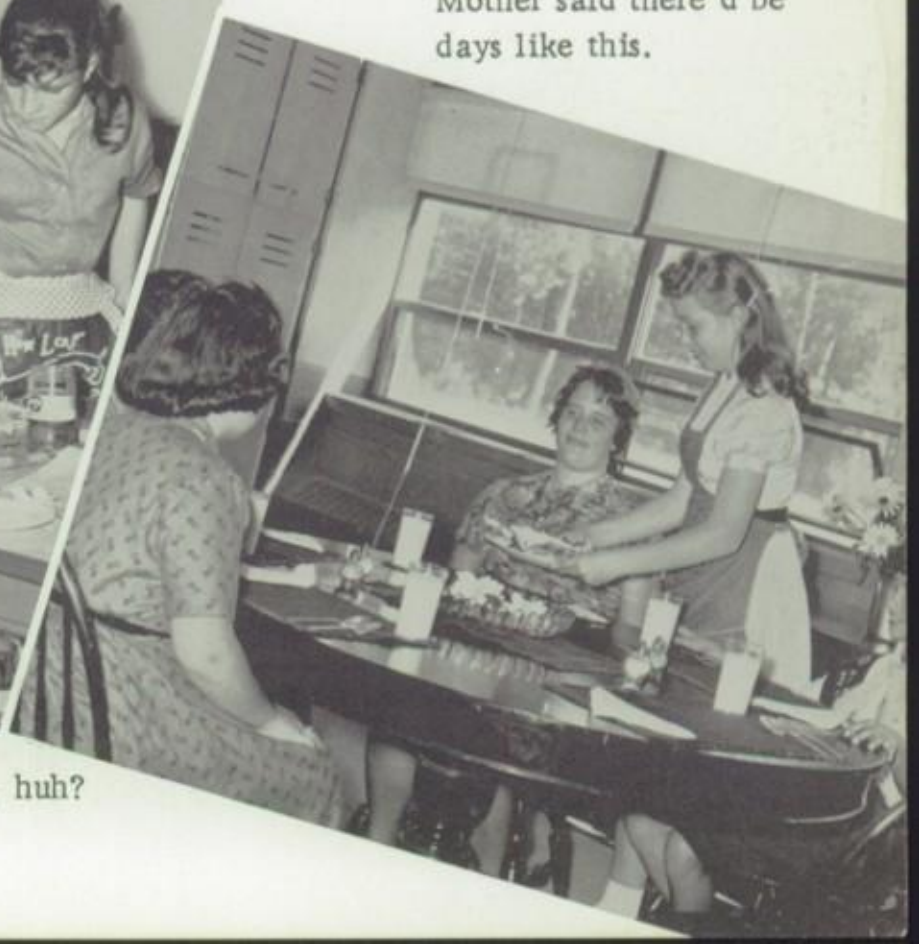
As the boys trot home with bowls, tie-racks and tables, James Blair girls acquire the skills expected of American women. The mother of home economics, Mrs. Esther Batchelder (affectionately known as Mrs. 'B.'), instructs the students in budgeting, good grooming, character building and consumer buying. The girls also prick their fingers while learning to sew and give their boyfriends indigestion from their delicious cooking.

I am never getting married!



Let us have a bit, huh?

Mother said there'd be days like this.

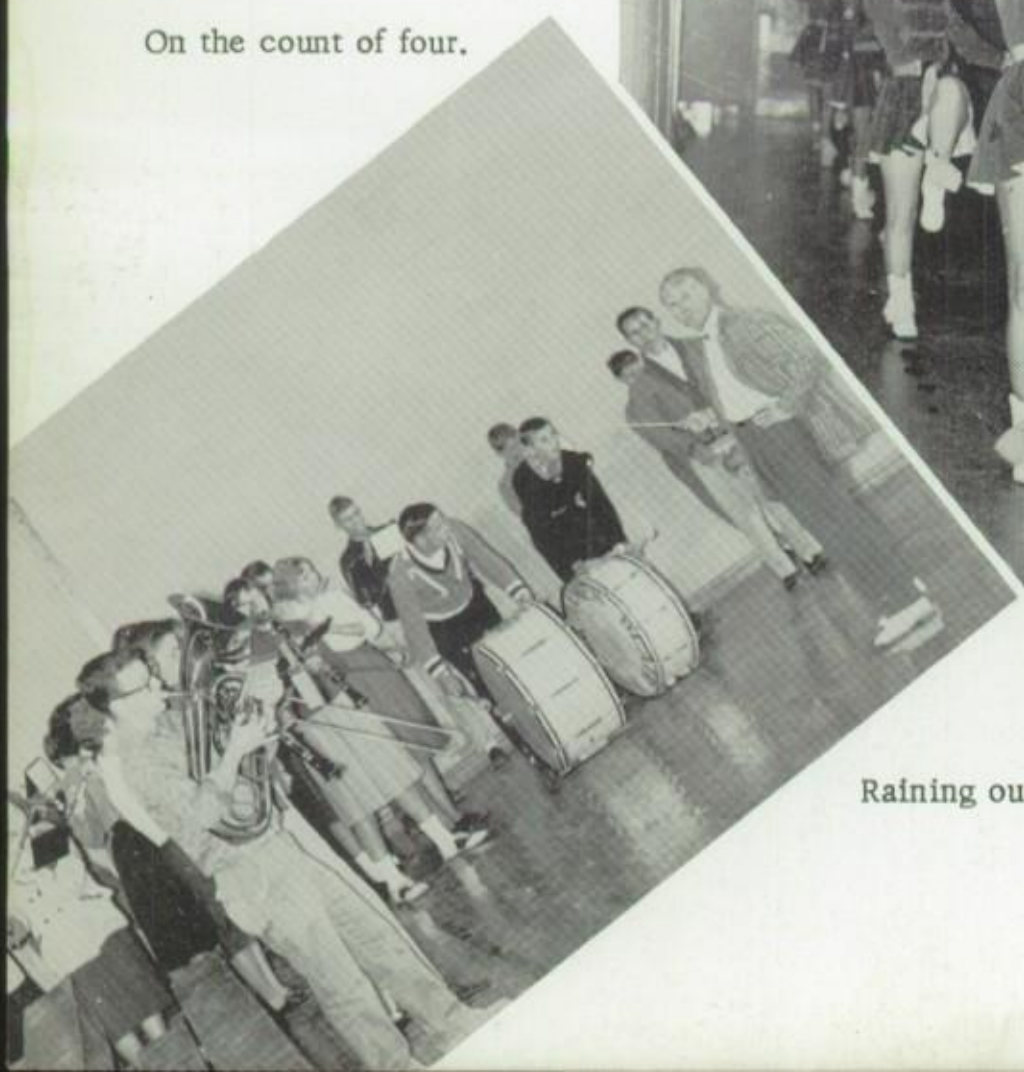


"If I've told you once, I've told you a thousand times."

"The thinker."

To make beautiful music is the only interest of the devoted musicians and singers in James Blair's Music Department. Mr. Charles McCandless, music teacher, leads the band at sports events, parades and special concerts; he also directs the golden-voiced members of the newly-organized choir which sings at concerts and assemblies. At James Blair the sound of music delights the ear.

On the count of four.



Raining outside, girls?

Oh, those hot Trombones!

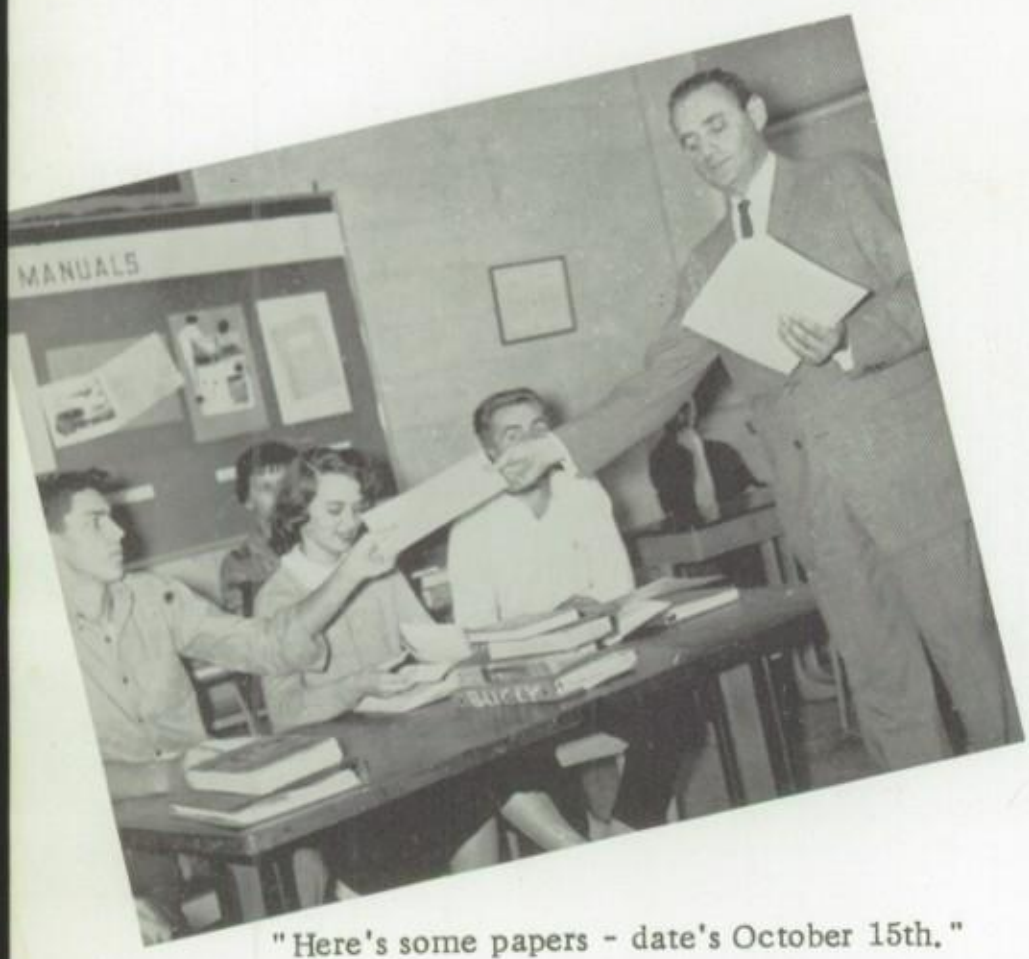
"Who me? I'm just resting."

Sounds not so pleasant to hear come from the gym, where students become well-rounded in body as well as in mind. Groaning and moaning, they perform twenty push-ups before running twice around the football field. Mrs. Lillian Bazzle supervises the girls in games of hockey, speedball, volleyball, basketball and softball; Coaches Spalding, Thomason and Harvey keep the boys physically fit with football, basketball, track, baseball, volleyball and tumbling.

"If we have to go outside today . . ."

Heave ho!

Those anxious to learn about the world of big business are students in Mr. Roland Friedman's Distributive Education class. Knowing that employment equals wealth, they give sales demonstrations, judge window displays, take field trips to buyers' shows, and participate in job interviews.



"Here's some papers - date's October 15th."

"Who said I was going steady?
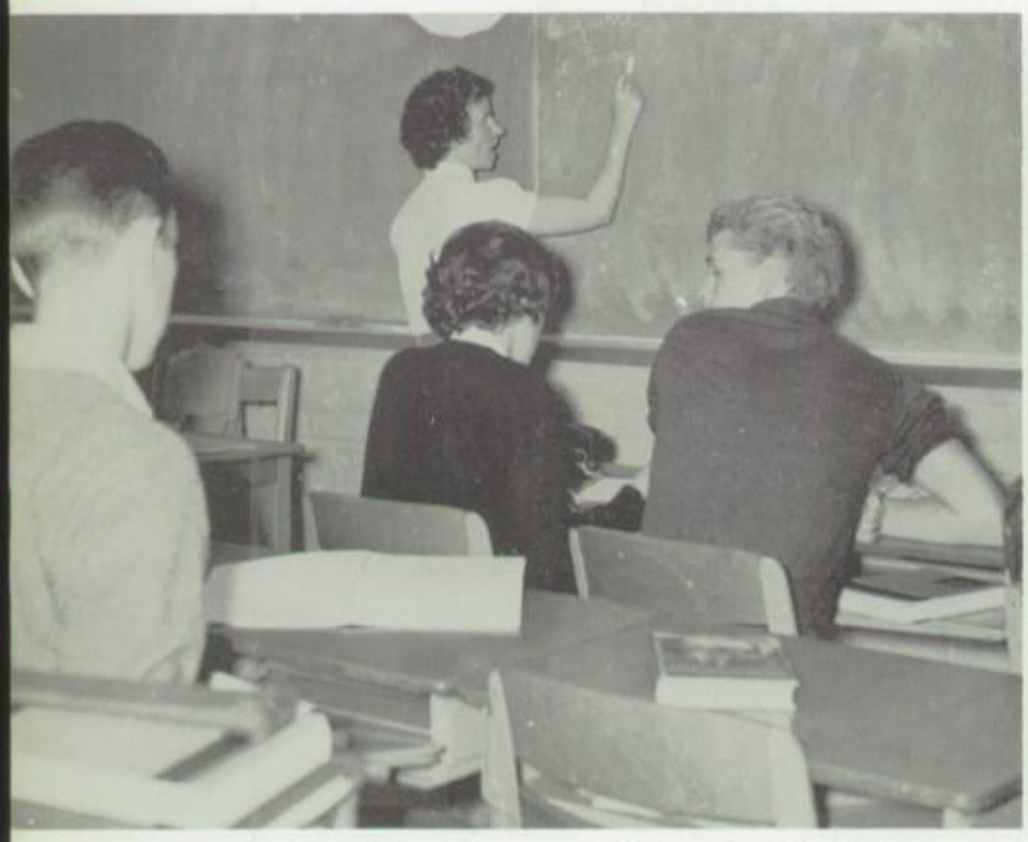
I only dated him twice."



"Last name first, first name last. In PRINT."

"Yes, yes, keep writing."

"Parlez-vous francais?" is the sometimes despairing question of James Blair's French scholars as they learn the eccentricities of a foreign language. These fortunate students have the privilege of studying under Mlle. Marie-Louise Lanchou, a native of Brest, France, or Mrs. Nancy Harvey. While making French scrapbooks and listening intently to taped conversations, they live and breathe the very air of Labelle France.

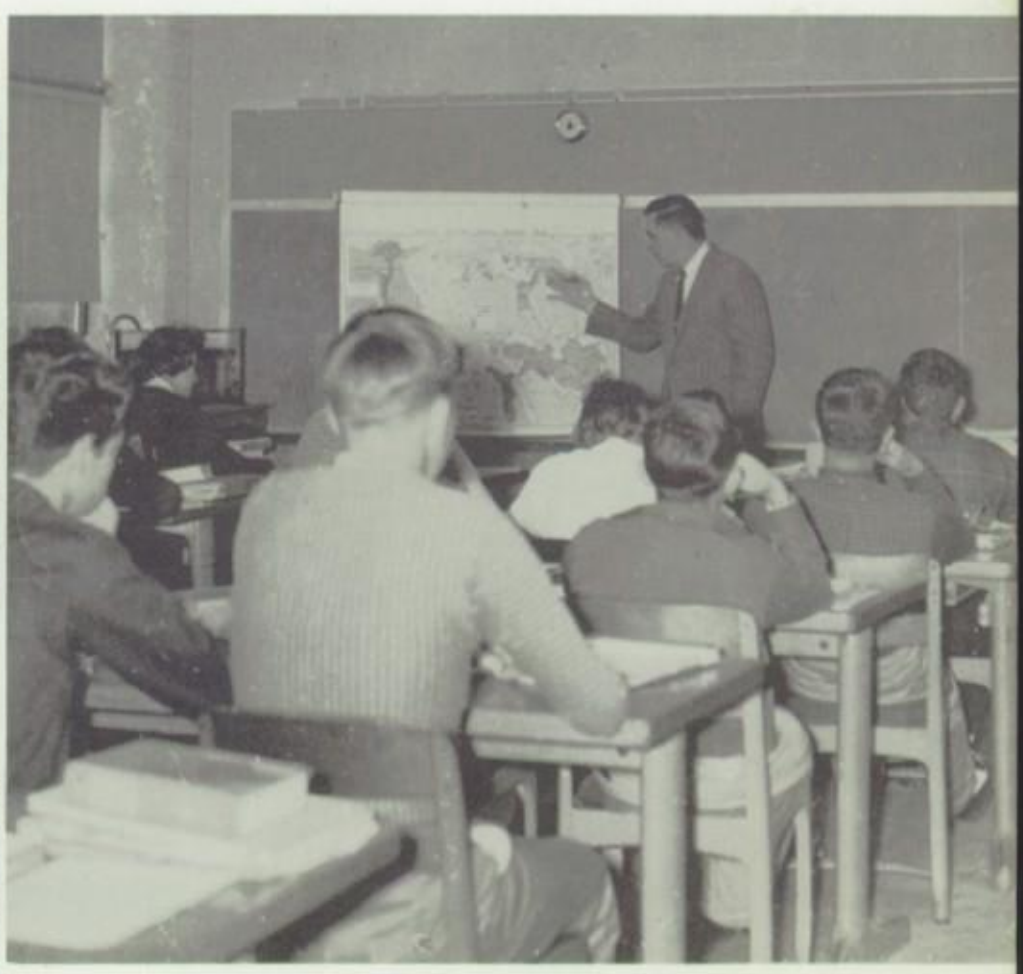
As French resounds through Room 213, Latin conjugations echo in Room 211 next door: "Ero, eris . . . RATS!" Mrs. Marjorie Neal escorts her proteges and others through the fascinating realms of Caesar's ancient Rome and the bloody battlefields of the GALLIC WARS.

"Propaganda, I say, Progaganda."

"Isn't he handsome?"

The march through eons of time is made when energetic scholars, starving for knowledge, discover fountains of wisdom in James Blair's history classes. Their hunger is appeased by the brilliant instruction in World history, American history and Government.

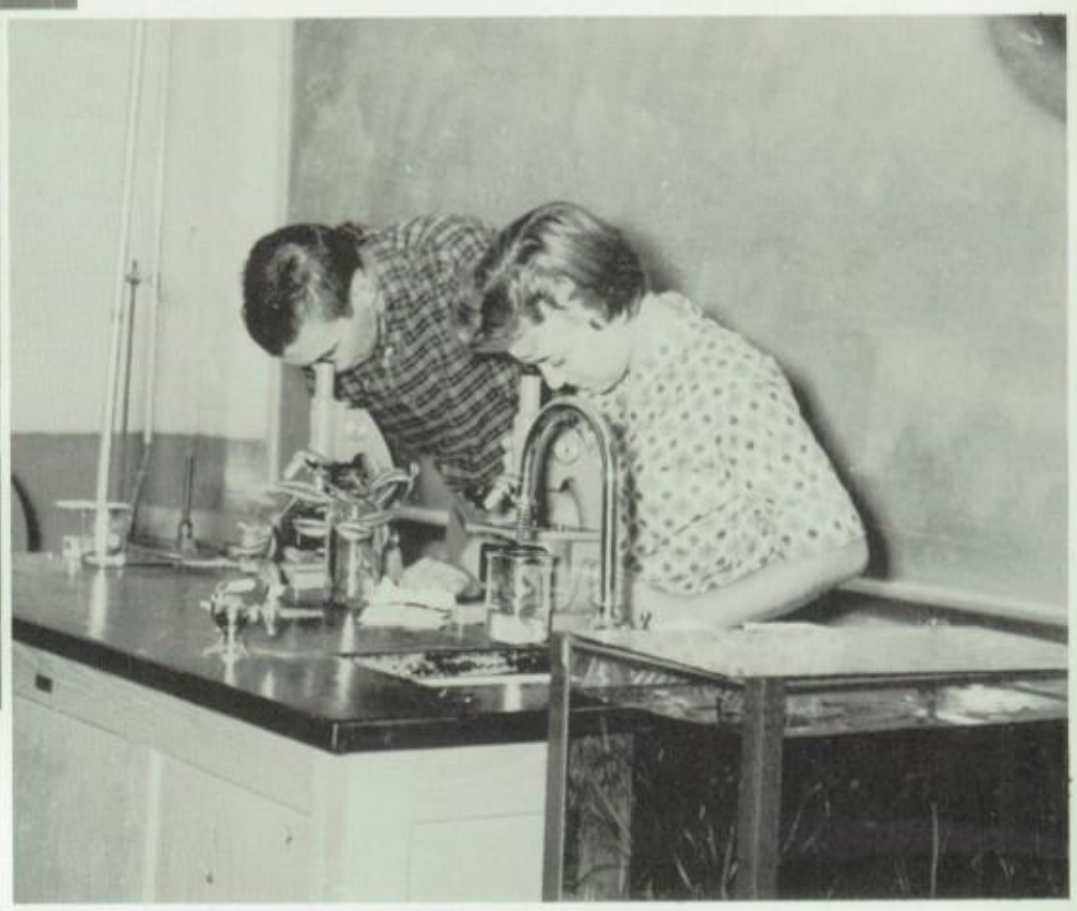
"WE say: 'The War Between The States.'"



"What's he trying to find anyway?"

"That's a good question."

"Past, what are we supposed to see?"



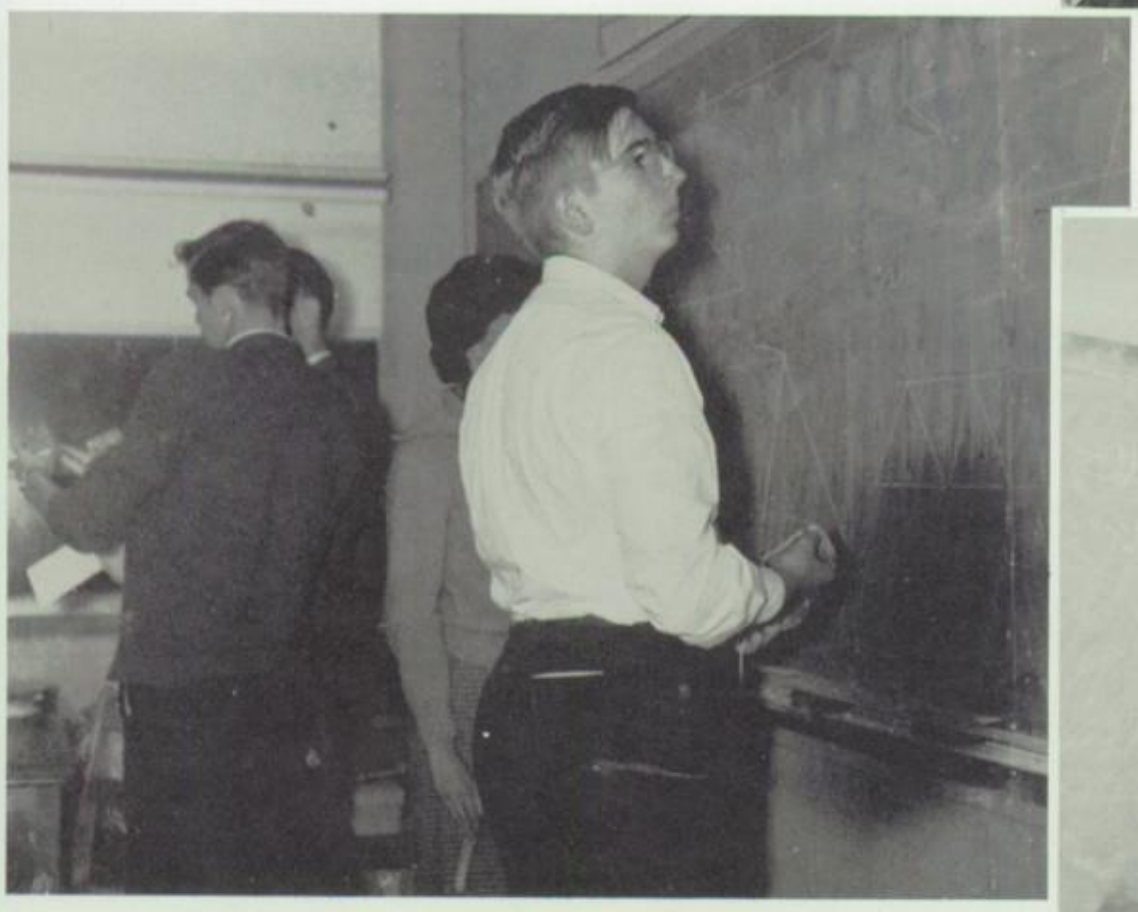
"Now watch, I'll explain it again."

"But I disagree, Mrs. Lawrence."

Science fanatics find their pleasure in strange ways. Nothing delights a biology student so much as slicing open a long, cold, shriveled-up worm. Fun is guaranteed for chemists when sulfur is burned in Miss Marjorie Browning's haven, the lab. This experiment thrills the student body when the halls are filled with that aromatic rotten-egg odor. "And by the way, who says we're behind the Russians?" argue the physics students as they endeavor to build the biggest JB Bomb in history.

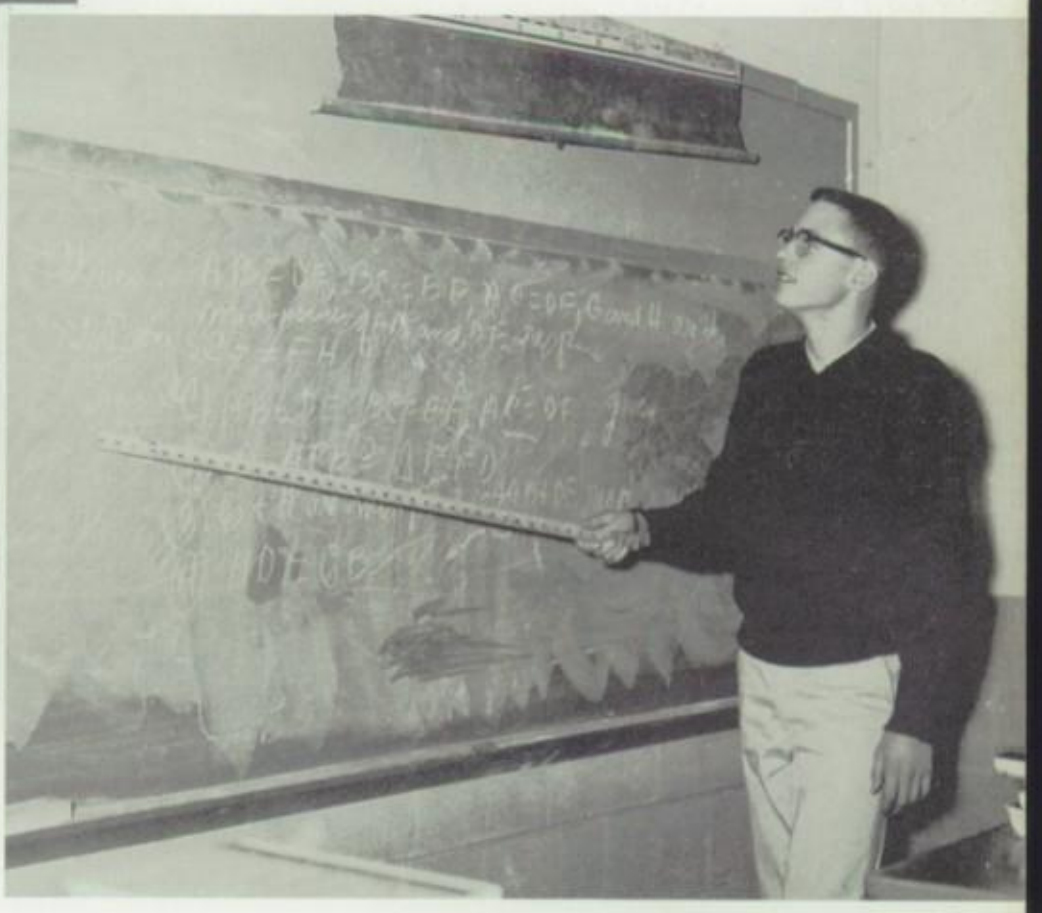
"As soon as he stops talking, I'll go on."

"Well, theoretically they ARE equal!"



"LA is complementary to LB, therefore . . ."

" . . . And that proves two plus two equals five."



In the mathematics department, students are overjoyed to learn that if ordinary numbers are not sufficient, they can invent new ones. This compensates for the many trials and tribulations they encounter as they journey from elementary math where one learns that two plus two equals four, to advanced math where one proves it.

"I vant your neck."

"Write, write, write, that's all we do."

The beautiful language of Chaucer and Shakespeare is sometimes unrecognizable when spoken by James Blair students. Language Arts teachers fully realize this as they pass their vast knowledge of English literature and grammar to their pupils. Book reports by the dozens and term papers numbering in the thousands supposedly pave the way to Building Better English.

James Blair students not only work; they find time to play, too.

"How late did they say we could stay?"

"Oh no, Mr. Pitts, he's just asleep."

"I just can't make speeches."

Homecoming Days

"Who talked us into this?"

"Whose touchdown is it?"

"Alright, girls, 1,2,3, kick."

"Our hero"

"Here we go round the mulberry bush . . ."

"For your superior salesmanship, you receive a life's subscription to 'Mickey Mouse Club Magazine.' "

"To Miss Hunnicutt goes a copy of General Grant's memoirs."

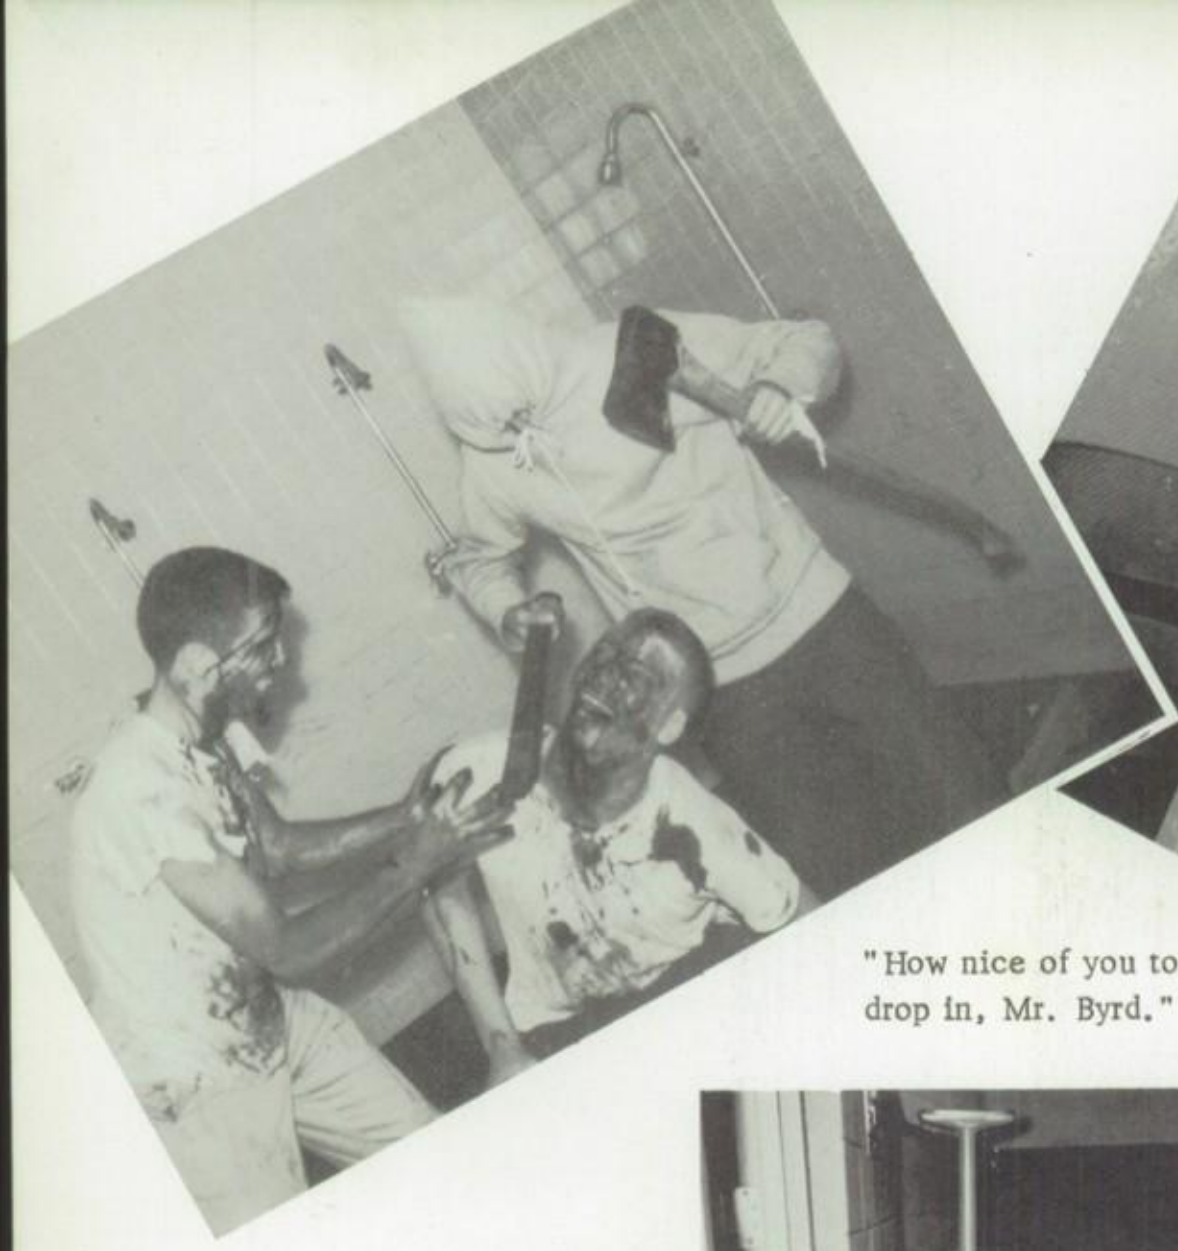
MAGAZINE CAMPAIGN

"Did he really say that?"

"With all apologies to Shakespeare . . ."

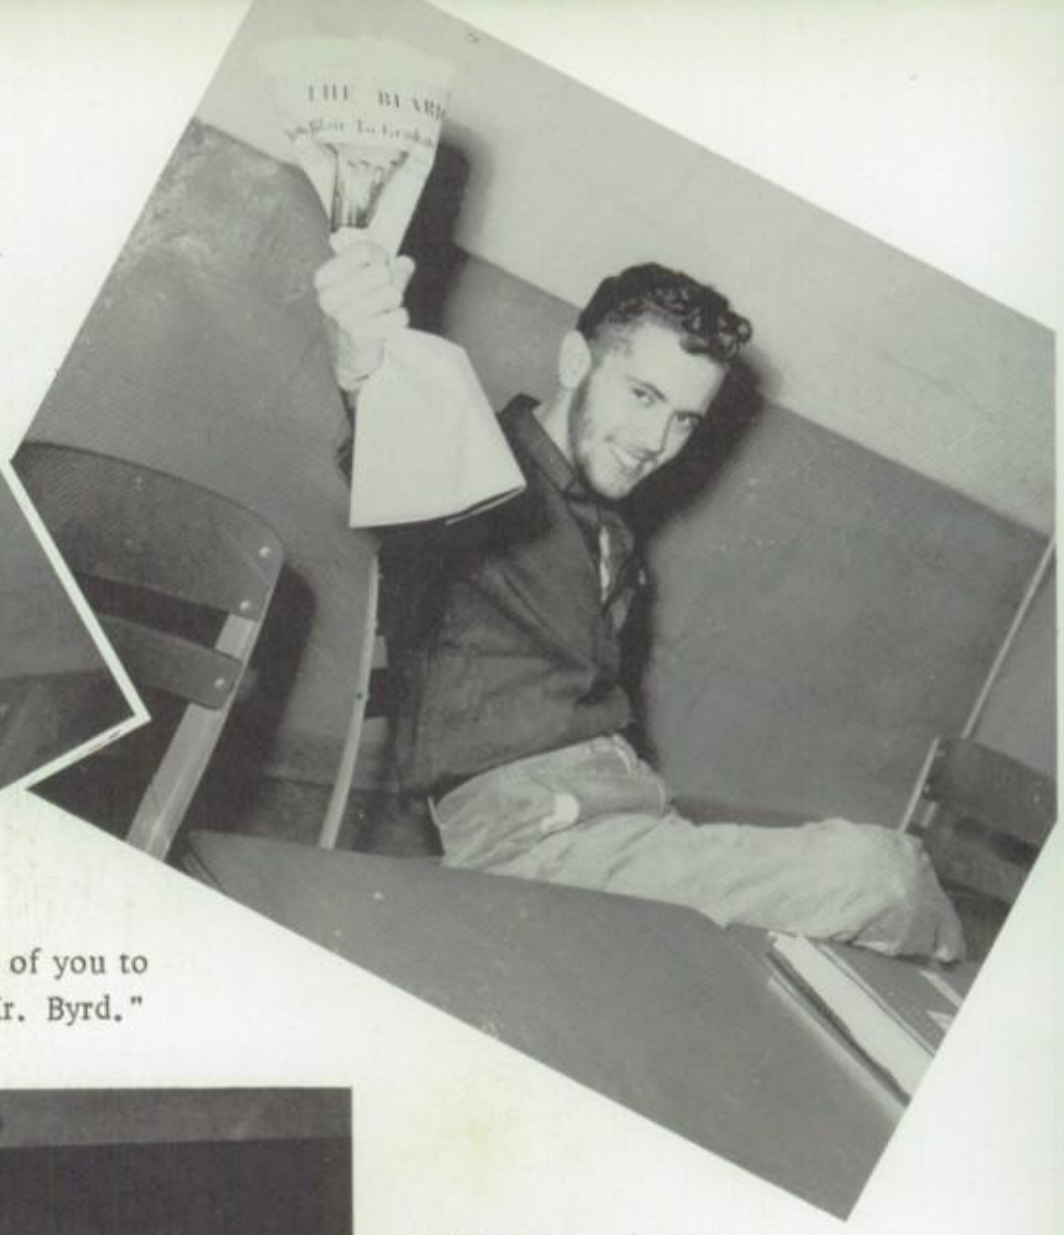
"Here's a volunteer!"

SENIOR CARNIVAL SKIT



"That tickles!"

SENIOR CARNIVAL

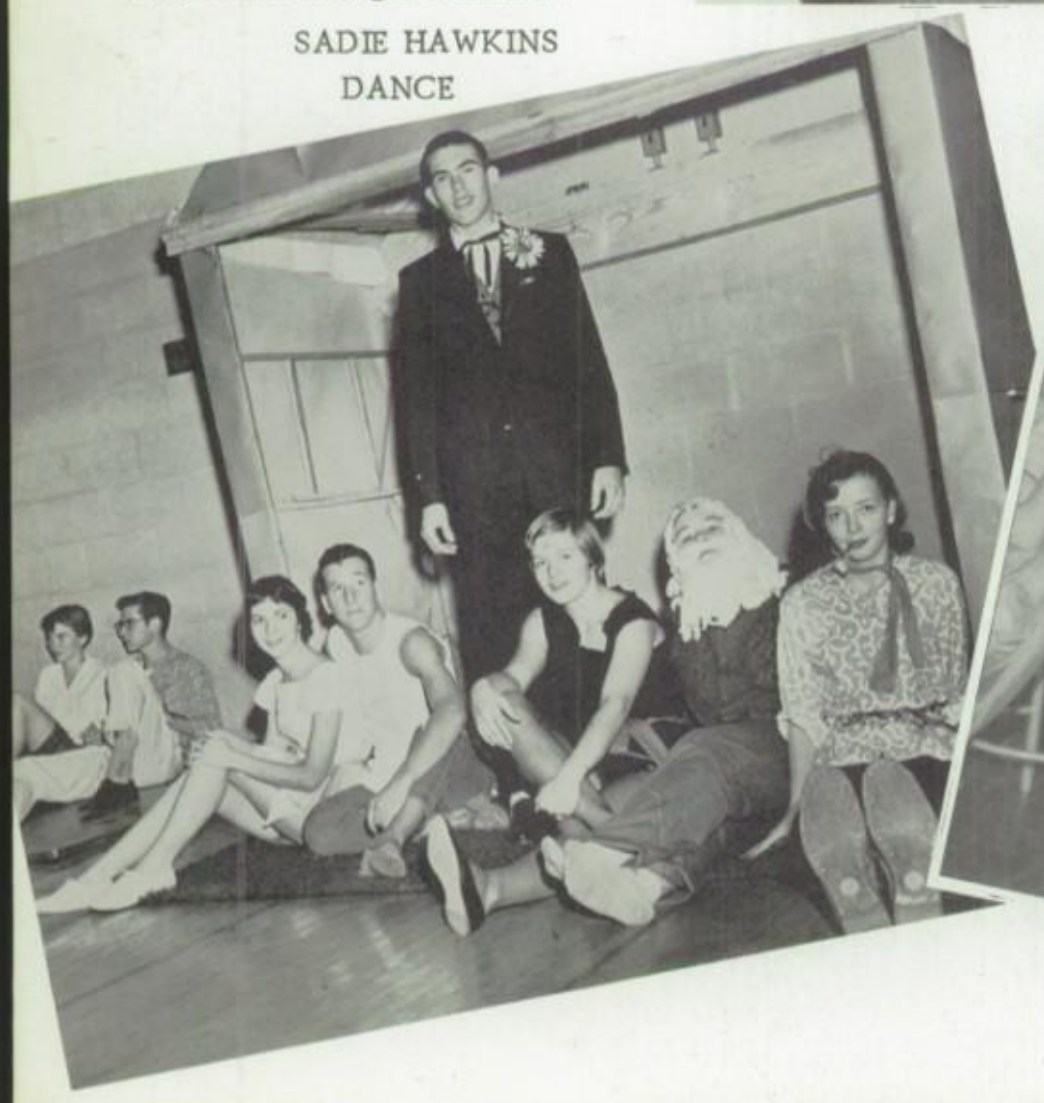


"How nice of you to drop in, Mr. Byrd."

"This means WAR!"

"Aw, come on, get married."

SADIE HAWKINS DANCE



"Ah, Romance!"

CHRISTMAS DANCE

ACTIVITIES

The school's activities are as absorbing and as varied as the interests of our colonial forefathers who met in the Raleigh Tavern for games, refreshments, and political discussions.

"Walk Together, Talk Together, Oh Ye Peoples of the Earth — — — "

Phillip Helslander and Mlle. Lanchou

Foreign Exchange

MARIE-LOUISE LANCHOU

James Blair students have greatly benefitted through the various foreign exchange programs in which we participate. For the past year, Mlle. Marie-Louise Lanchou of Brest, France, taught the French language to eager students. Meanwhile, Miss Genelle Caldwell, a James Blair faculty member, taught in France.

PHILLIP HELSLANDER

Phillip Helslander, a senior, was selected from his class by the American Field Service to represent our youth in Jussy, France. Of the summer abroad Phillip has stated: "I learned a great deal; something that resulted in expansion of the mind and an understanding of another people that I truly think can only come from an experience of the type which I was privileged enough to have."

Girls' and Boys' State — "The Prominent Ones"

Wade Cheatham

Robert Harrison

Ernest Johnson

John Ruffin

A stimulating and extraordinary experience at Virginia Girls' and Boys' State is offered each summer to selected members of the rising senior class. For a week in July, boys and girls from Virginia high schools meet in session, sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary, to learn about Virginia city and state government. They set up their own governments, elect state and city officials and attend lectures. Kristen Crocker, Becky Fudge, and Karen Halligan were the 1960 representatives to Girls' State, held at Radford College. Attending Boys' State at V.P.I. in Blacksburg were Wade Cheatham, Robert Harrison, Ernest Johnson, and John Ruffin.

The Student Council is the governing body of the Student Co-operative Association. It is composed of the four regular officers and the newly created officer, the reporter, and representatives from homerooms and school organization. Every Tuesday the Council meets to discuss school problems and carry out projects. This year the S.C.A. conducted the Magazine Campaign, the White Christmas Drive, a general clean-up campaign, and the annual Meals for Millions drive. In addition, they sponsored a Korean Orphan and held a Christmas Dance.

S.C.A. Officers in our Homecoming Parade.

S.C.A. Committees

The co-ordination, and sometimes the planning, of assembly programs are the duties of the Assembly Committee and their faculty advisors. The assemblies are usually presented once a week during Friday activities period.

ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE - SEATED: Mrs. Grooms, Mrs. Batchelder. STANDING: J. P. Cottingham, Linc Peters, Evans Harbour, John Ruffin.

BULLETIN BOARD - FRONT TO BACK: Barbara Payne, Peggy Garrette, Martha Davis, Joy Arrington, Carolyn Moss.

The principle job of the Bulletin Board Committee is maintaining and arranging bulletin boards for the entertainment of the students in general. They also approve posters advertising school activities and keep a record of those school organizations which use the bulletin boards.

The responsibility of the Grace Committee is to select a person each day to lead the blessing before the lunch shifts.

GRACE COMMITTEE: Mary Sherlin Hynes, Alice Sue Reitz, Meg MacDonald, Nancy Lunger.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE - SEATED: Peggy Garrette, Betty Rowe. STANDING: Virginia Moyer, Karen Halligan.

The Orientation Committee is a group that takes new students and rising seventh graders by the hand and leads them through the mazes of new school life. This official welcoming body publishes a school handbook.

S.C.A. Committees

WAYS AND MEANS: Charles Thompson, Blake Marion, Jeff Jones, Bobby Brenegan.

The Ways and Means Committee conducts the financial affairs of the S.C.A. by planning expenditures and sources of income. They also sponsor fund-raising programs.

SENIOR BULLETIN BOARD: Patsy Riley, Sally Abbitt, Cathy Sue, Fauerbach, Suetta Sulser, Carole Fleshman, Peggy Coddington.

A bulletin board that is planned primarily with the interests and activities of the Senior class in mind, is maintained by the Senior Bulletin Board Committee.

At the end of the homeroom period each morning, a member of the student body reads a brief quotation over the public address system. This program, conducted by the Thought For the Day Committee, attempts to challenge the students to do their best throughout each day.

PUBLICITY: Sally Abbitt, Bill Davis, Nancy Mitkievicz, Nancy Niver, Margaret Phelps.

The newly-created Publicity Committee advertises the activities of the S.C.A. A bulletin board in the school, radio broadcasts and newspapers are means of publicizing events.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Susan Jones, Barbara Gonzales, Sally Court.

To be tapped by the National Honor Society is the highest recognition a James Blair student can receive for his own personal and consistent efforts to secure a sound education. Members of the National Honor Society are selected for character, leadership, scholarship, and service.

This year's members have offered a tutoring service to the student body and participated in teaching the lower grades. Their most important objective of the year was to stimulate a sense of intellectual honesty at James Blair.

Future Homemakers of America — Bakers and Menders

Corsage time again.

Just don't pin it on my finger.

OFFICERS: Marylin Slauson, Historian; Pauline Hedrick, Reporter; Becky Hale, Parliamentarian; Gloria Koger, Secretary; Sharon Waltrip, Treasurer. SEATED: Becky Scott, Vice-President; Peggy Garrette, President.

"Toward New Horizons," the motto of the Future Homemakers of America, illustrates this organization's ever far-reaching and worthwhile projects. In the past year these club members gave parties for Eastern State and Fort Eustis hospital patients. The objective of this organization is to promote democracy in home and community life, which proves that democracy, in all forms, crops up in the most unlikely places.

"A one, and a two, and a three" —

THE JAMES BLAIR BAND

The sound of trumpets and the rat-a-tat-tat of drums announced the coming of James Blair's band as it marched through the Williamsburg streets during parades, or down the football field at halftime. The band enlivened school pep rallies, and provided musical pleasure at concerts for Eastern State hospital patients. At the annual spring concert, the band again entertained its audience with varied musical selections.

"Spectator's Pickup"

Every Thursday during activity period the Monogram Club meets with their sponsors, Mrs. Bazzle and Coach Spaulding. The selected members of the organization are chosen for winning letters for outstanding ability in sports or cheerleading. Members of the club open and run the concession booth at the ball games to make money for the banquet which they hold in May for new members. The Monogram Club is also in charge of the Homecoming festivities in the fall.

FIRST ROW: Richard Van Ausdale, Blake Marion, Richard Thompson, Arthur Henretta, Margaret Vaughan, Glenda Mason, Peggy Sutphin. Cooley Field, September 23, 1960. Quarterback Wade Cheatham threw a 19 yard pass to end Armond Campbell, ran two consecutive touchdowns of 7 and 12 yards himself, and set up touchdown drives of 39 and 45 yards with great signal calling, to lead the "JayBees" to an impressive 31-19 victory over the "Dukes" of Windsor High.

Cooley Field, September 30, 1960. Sophomore Gene Lanier drew the starting assignment at quarterback because of the injury sustained by Wade Cheatham in the Windsor game, and the young field general teamed with fullback Harry Moss and halfback Bob Waltrip to give the visiting Glouces-ter "Dukes" the scare of their lives in a pulse-pounding 14-13 loss to the visitors. Moss and Waltrip led touchdown drives of 70 and 55 yards, with each of the speed merchants getting a score. Lanier added the only extra point with a quarterback sneak into the end zone but it was not enough as the Blairmen were unable to pull out the hard-fought battle.

Cooley Field, October 7, 1960. Wade Cheatham came off the bench taped like a "mummy" due to a badly bruised kidney but in return unwrapped the Virginia Beach defense as he passed for one score, ran seven yards for an-other and teamed with Charlie Thompson so that the fleet "JayBee" back could break loose for a 50 yard touchdown romp. Senior guard Ernie John-son added to perfect after-the-score placements to wrap a tremendous team effort and great individual performance on Cheatham's part to give the "JayBees" a sterling 20-12 victory over Virginia Beach.

Harry Moss racked up over 1,000 yards in a total of 8 games to lead the all team effort and become 1960's leading ground gainer. Harry Moss looks to a college scholarship for his outstanding performances in high school and the Beehive wishes the James Blair senior all the luck and best wishes for the future years.

"Jay Bees" 1960

Action "Snaps"

Harry Moss makes tackle on Poquoson's Robert Evans as Armond Campbell moves up to help in "JayBees" last game of 1960 season.

Bobby Waltrip, "JayBees" halfback snares pass from Wade Cheatham in Action from Varina game, October 28, 1960, Cooley Field.

Halfback Earl Stout stops abruptly to avoid Poquoson tackler as John O'Neal and Harry Moss follow proceedings.

Harry Moss about to put the "flownce" on Gloucester ball-carrier in "JayBees" hard-fought, 14-13 loss, Sept. 30, Cooley Field.

Wade Cheatham, "JayBees" quarterback cuts into the middle of the line to avoid Poquoson tackler as Bobby Waltrip looks on.

FOR THE RECORD

The 1960 J.V. squad has to be given a great deal of credit for its fine showing throughout the season and giving James Blair the first undefeated J.V. team in the school's history. Compiling an excellent 7-0 record, the J.V.'s held all opponents to a total of only two touchdowns and the 2nd and 3rd units added two victories to the margin over Christchurch. The Beehive congratulates Coach Harvey and his boys on a fine showing during 1960.

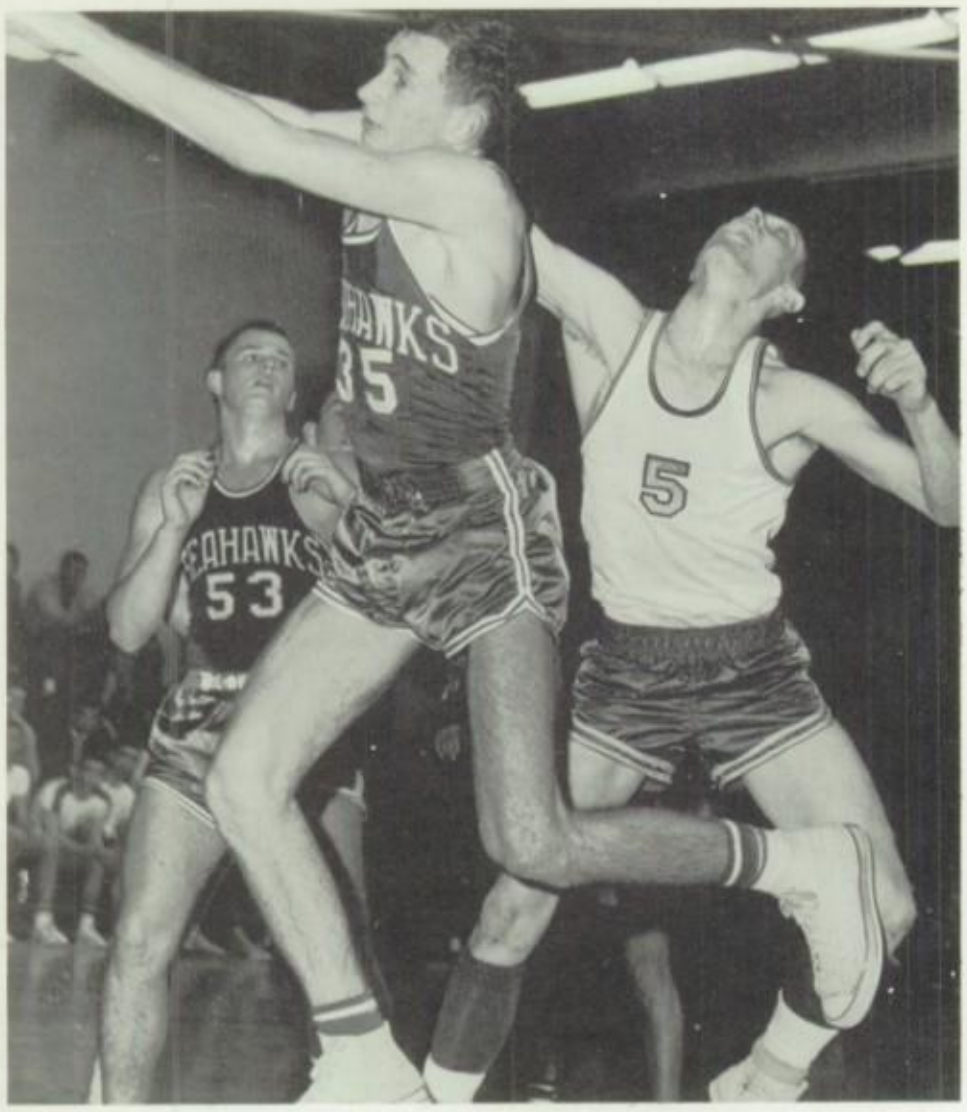
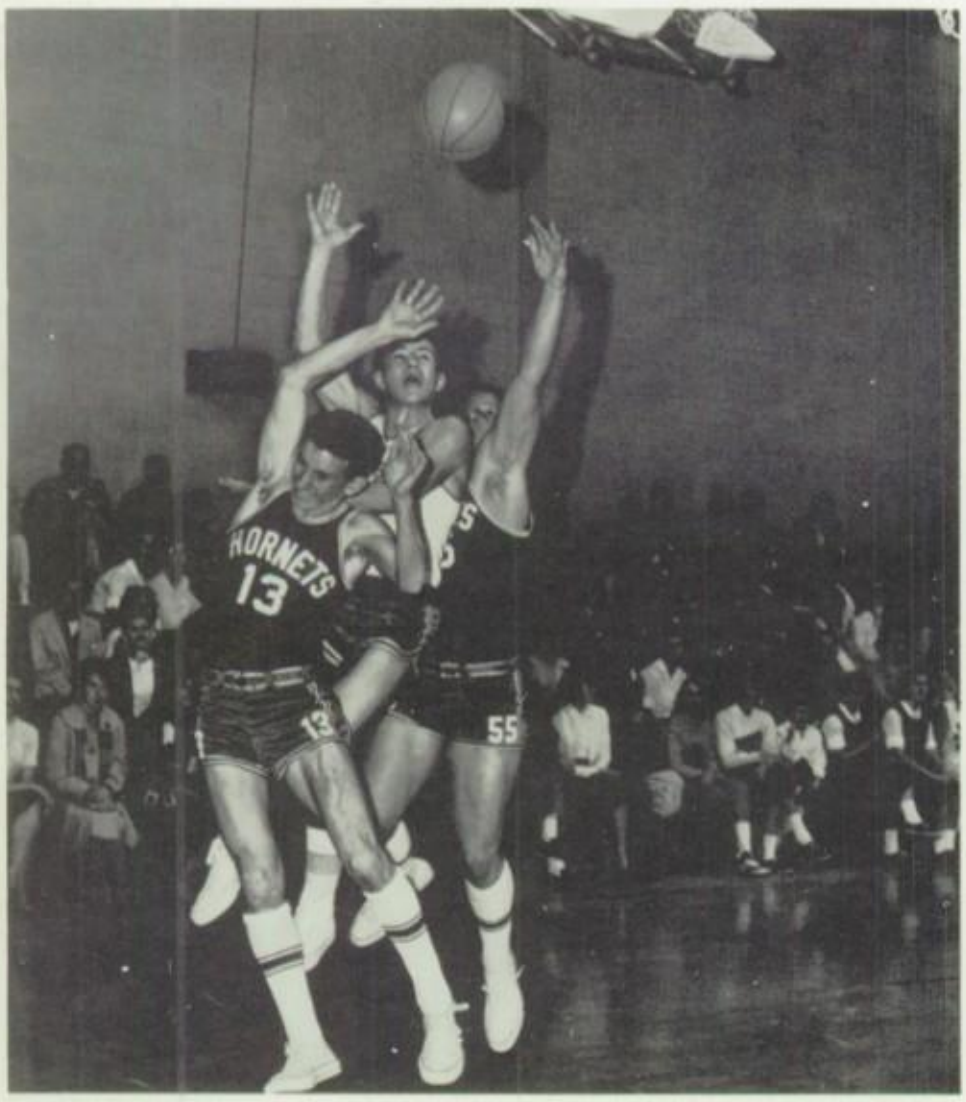
Blairmen in Action . . . "Snaps" of '60-'61 Season

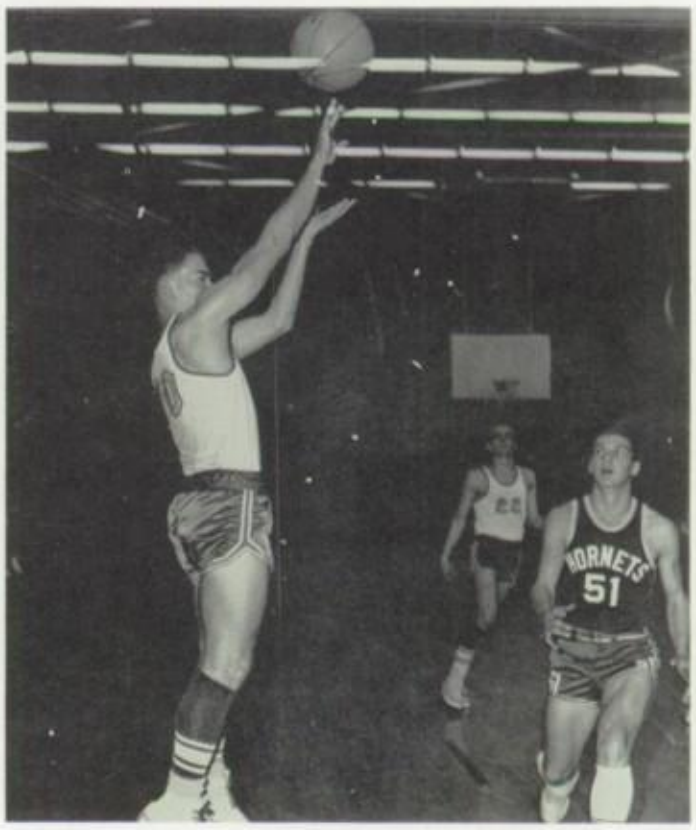


Richard Thompson and Virginia Beach's Bob Bosher battle for rebound in tense action.

Russ Miller shoots jump shot as Glouces-ter defender tries to block attempt.



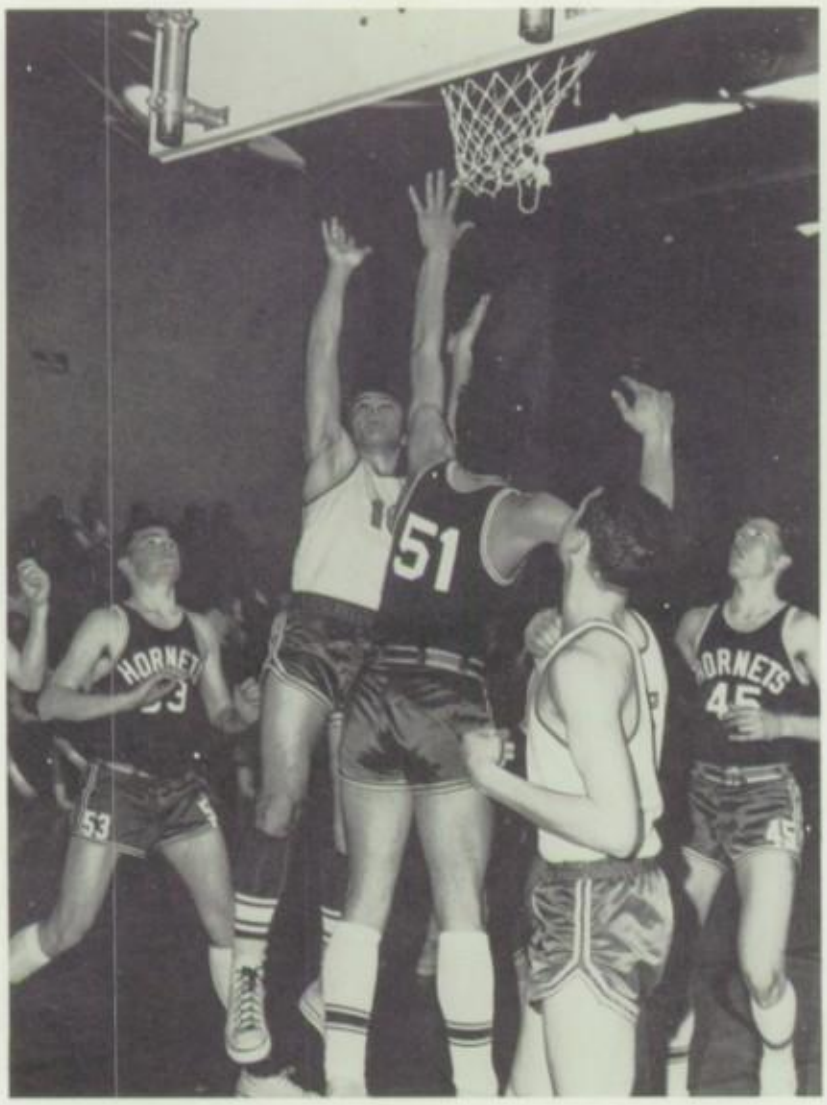
Hard to imagine, but Art Henretta made this driving layup and went on to sink the foul shot in "JayBees" upset victory over Deep Creek.



Bob Harrison fires 2 of 21 against Deep Creek in sterling performance that gave Blairmen much deserved win.

MORE FROM 1960-'61 SEASON

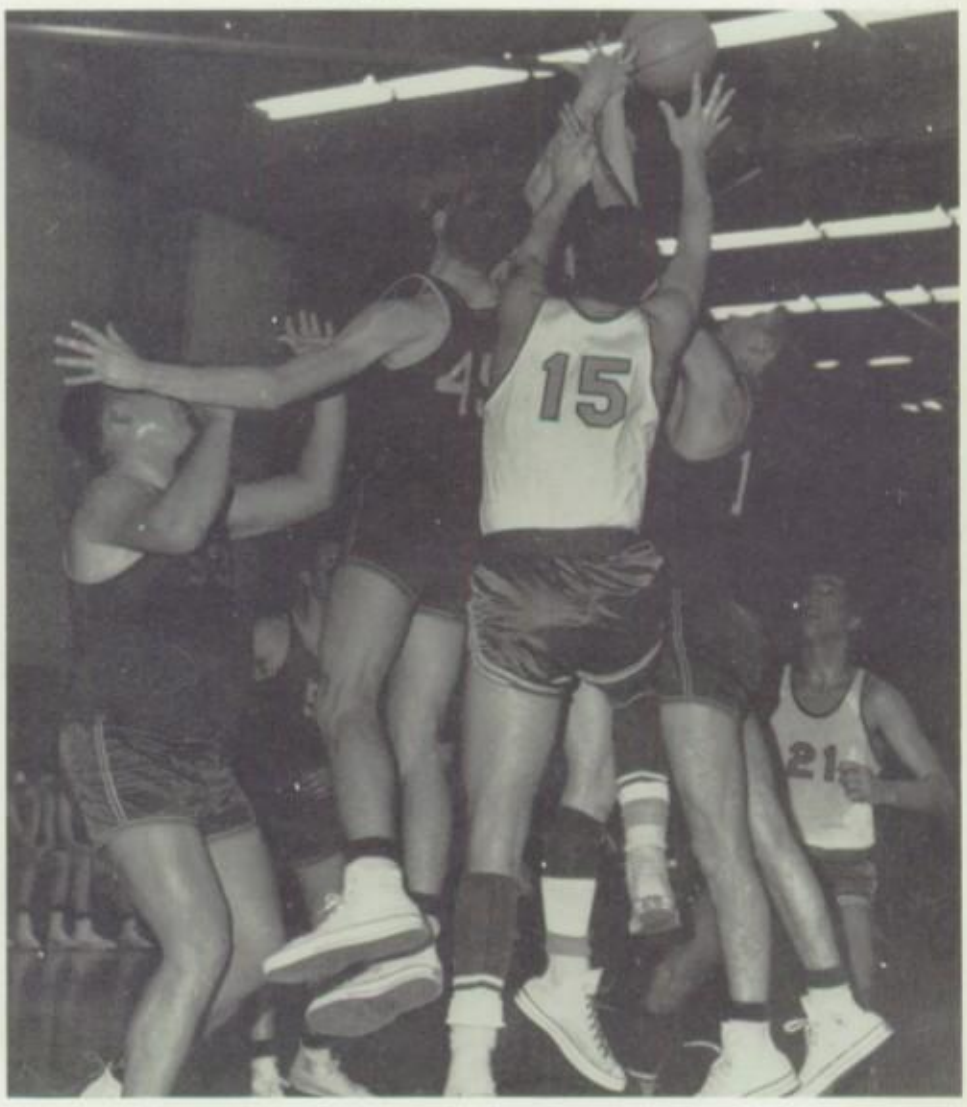
"JAYBEE" CAGERS IN ACTION



Bob Harrison hits layup as Deep Creek defenders look on and Richard Thompson awaits outcome.

Art Henretta becomes airborne once more as he connects on driving layup.

Richard Meadows fires leaping jump shot over helpless "seahawk" defender in Blairmen's slim 50-46 loss to visiting conference foe.



It's anybody and everybody in action shot from "Jay-Bees" overtime win against Smithfield.

OUTSTANDING PERFORMERS WITH GOOD VARSITY POTENTIAL

Robie Sheldon - drives well, a good jump shot and fine ball handler, should be welcome addition to Varsity backcourt next season.

Gene Michelli - good spring, fine stamina and possessing good jump shot. Should team with Jeff Jones and Dick VanAusdall to give three-way scoring and three point coverage under the boards.

Cheerleaders

A vital part of school spirit and school activities is the cheerleader. These girls work hard and cheer hard to better the school spirit and to lead the fans in rooting for the "JayBees." Be it football field or basketball court these girls knock themselves out to support the team and never seem to lose their pep and vitality. These girls, selected through competition, are sponsored by Miss Goodman. The girls take part in the James Blair and William and Mary Homecoming Parades and give bake sales and sock hops to provide for their spending money which is needed for away trips during the football and basketball seasons. After the basketball season ends however, the girls don't stop their work. During the spring and latter months of the school year the squad is always thinking up new cheers and preparing new girls for the squad. Yes, many people don't know what goes into making a good cheerleading squad, one that a school can be proud of, but hard work and constant effort have given Blair a cheerleading squad to be proud of. Hats off to the 1960-'61 cheerleaders!

Sunburns and blue ribbons mark James Blair's annual Sports Day, a gala occasion when classes are turned into play and the teachers wear Bermudas. In the gym and on the campus, students show clear minds in agile bodies.

Barb, well another year is finally coming to a close, and I must say we have had some very interesting times. I can hardly wait to wish you much success and luck in the future. Be good this year, but not too good. Love ya Molly

Barbara,
Boy we sure had some pretty "exciting" times didn't we! I am most happy that we were in homeroom together because it made it easier to "plan" things. I look forward to next year and some more wild times.

Your friend always,
Lynne Rowe

P.S. Be careful on that

Letter From the Editor

With graduation near each senior lets his mind think of all the many yesterdays. Yesterdays filled with memorable events - happy, sad, insignificant and important - that have crowded high school life. This book is one of them.

The BEE HIVE has shown me happiness in watching it grow from a blank copy sheet into a beautiful book; sadness in knowing it márks an end to one happy period of my life; responsibility and importance in knowing that my fellow students have given me the opportunity to make the BEE HIVE great or insignificant.

Yes, the challenge was mine because my class had elected me editor. I had the power because my school supported the sales campaign, and I had the opportunity because my teachers considered it a part of my education.

For all the confidence and patience that has been given to the yearbook staff and to me, I want to thank each student and each faculty member of James Blair. I hope that this yearbook will serve as a history of the class, the activities and the memories of the year 1960-61 of the James Blair School.

Barb,
Don't forget homeroom and sweet 40
miss Goodman. Hope
see you this summer.
Stay just like you are.

Bucci

Barbara,
Sitting next to you in English has taken us through a lot of things with Mr. H
That really was ____!
hope next year we'll have other classes together. Good luck in the future and especially in English because after being in here you'll need it. Have fun this summer and take care of yourself. May all your wishes come true.
God bless you,

Best of luck to very sweet girl. It has been fun this year in geometry
(except for the work involved) and I hope we will have classes together next year.
May all the happiness and good fortune you desire be yours.
